Genesis

The Dawning of a New Creation

Each day dawning brings something new.

Today the Son
has borne a vision of Love,
laid gently on a branch of the Vine.
Through faith, joy sprang forth
and grew into kindness, eventually enveloping itself in goodness.

Only patience revealed
the new creature of self-control.
It sails to Unknown Heights on the wings of peace in a Land where the Son never sets.

Statement of Faith

We believe the Bible to be the inspired and only infallible authoritative Word of God. (11 Timothy 3:16)

We believe that there is one God, eternally existent in three persons: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. (1 John 5: 4-6)

We believe in the deity of our Lord Jesus Christ, in His virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His vicarious and atoning death through His shed blood, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the right hand of the Father, and in His personal return in power and glory. (1 Corinthians 15:30; 1 Peter 2:21-24; John 3:16)

We believe that for salvation of lost and sinful man, regeneration by the Holy spirit is absolutely essential. (Romans 3: 21-30; Galations 4: 4-7)

We believe that the full consummation of the Baptism of believers in the Holy Ghost is evidenced by the initial physical sign of speaking with other tongues as the Spirit gives utterance, and by the subsequent manifestation of spiritual power in public testimony and service. (Acts 2; 4; Acts 10: 44-46; 19:2 and 6; Acts 1:8, 2:42, 43; Matt. 3:11)

We believe in the resurrection of both the saved and the lost; that they are saved unto the resurrection of life; and that they are lost unto the resurrection of damnation. (John 5:24, 28, 29)

We believe that deliverance from sickness is provided for in the atonement, and is the privilege of all believers. (Isaiah 53:4; Matthew 8:16, 17; Mark 16:18; John 5:14; 1 Peter 2:24)

We believe in the imminent return of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. (1 Thess. 4:13-18; Rev. 21:20; 1 John 14:3)

Concept Of School

Recognizing Jesus, as the author and finisher of our faith, and the Word as the supreme standard for all wisdom and knowledge, it is our aim to develop ourselves accordingly, realizing that as we seek first His kingdom and righteousness all these things shall be added. . .

Heb. 12:1-2, James 1:5-6, I Pet. 1:24, I Jn. 2:5-6, I Jn. 5:3-5

We will endeavor to follow the will of God for our lives and to exemplify Christ like character through daily personal prayer and consistent study of the Word of God, and through faithful group worship both at school and church.

Matt. 7:7-11, James 1:22, I Pet. 1:13-16, II Pet. 1:10-11, Gal. 4:7

We will apply ourselves to our studies and endeavor to develop the full powers of our minds in Christ.

Lk. 2:52, Phil. 2:5, I Cor. 1:5

We will practice good health habits and regularly participate in wholesome physical activities.

I Cor. 3:16-17, Rom. 12:1

We will yield our personalities to the healing and the power of the Holy Spirit.

James 5:14-16, Acts 1:8, Acts 2:1-4

We will endeavor to faithfully give heed to the call of God on our lives and develop the gifts and abilities God has given us.

I Jn. 2:20, I Cor. 12:18-31, Eph. 4:11-12

We will seek to practically share the love of Christ through personal witness and specific ministry on a regular basis in an area of Christian service where we feel led.

Matt. 28:19-20, Matt. 10:8, Jn. 15:17, Cor. 15:58, II Cor. 5:18, I Cor. 9:22

We will submit ourselves to leadership and/or any rules or regulations that may be adopted or changed from time to time. We realize that attendance at Sheridan Christian School is a privilege and not a right. We determine to give our best and to prayerfully support SCS and it's philosophy of providing a quality without compromising the Word of God.

Headlines In The News

The hostages were freed! Yellow ribbons adorned America. Old glory waved. Church bells rang. Americans felt their patriotism soar, as we celebrated the end of 14 months of captivity for the hostages and negotiations for the Carter administration.

Ronald Reagan became our fortieth president after a landslide victory mandating conservative economic policies. He asked Congress and the people to support cuts in federal spending and taxes.

The Soviets invaded Afganistan and threatened Poland during the formation of the Polish unions. Reagan talked of American invasions in retaliation, and pondered the Soviet grain embargo.

Huge and enthusiastic crowds and terrorists greeted the Pope on his tour of the Orient.

Americans protested the re-established draft registration of all young men aged 19 and 20. A proposal to register women failed in the Congress.

Mount St. Helen rumbled, but in the past year we had grown accoustomed to having an active volcano in Washington.

The drought continued in Oklahoma, but a mild winter with record highs in February gave us many days on the playground.

Deregulation of oil raised the price of gasoline.

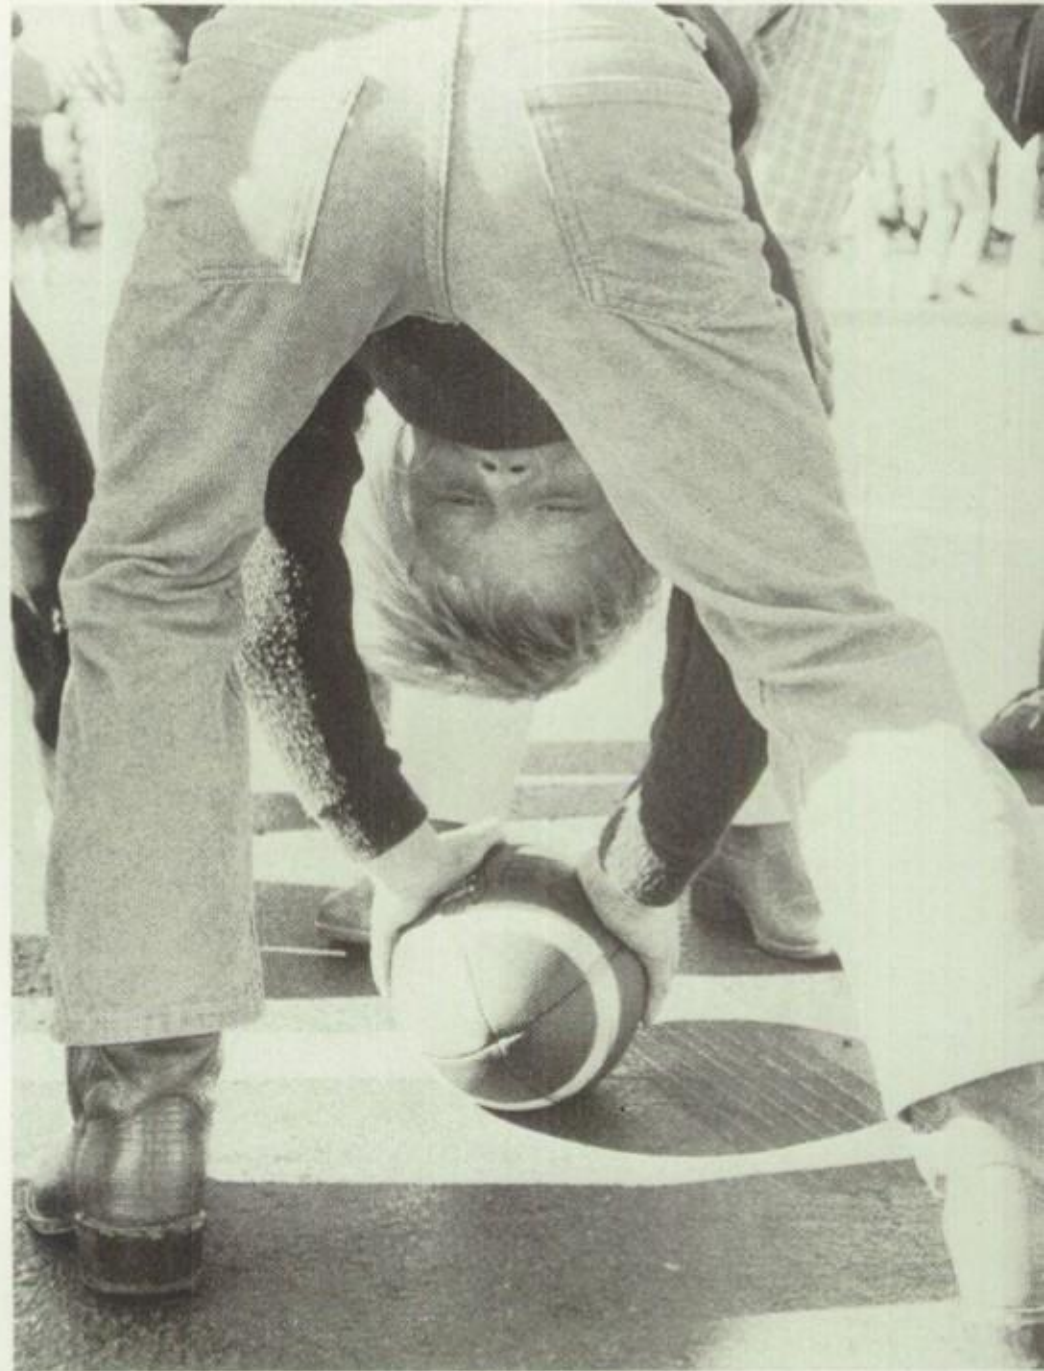

LET US PLAY

Four square and seven grades ago we played on a playground. Memories were created and friends were made.

Today our younger brothers and sisters play, still forming friendships and lasting memories. Though we recall playgrounds with sandboxes and large trees for climbing and hanging on, a jungle gym was preferred here, for "cursed is every man that hangeth on a tree." (Gal. 3:13)

Who is this masked man?

Hut, hut, football is one of the most popular sports on the playground.

Boys chasing girls, and vice versa.

"Ring around the rosy" a favorite with elementary students.

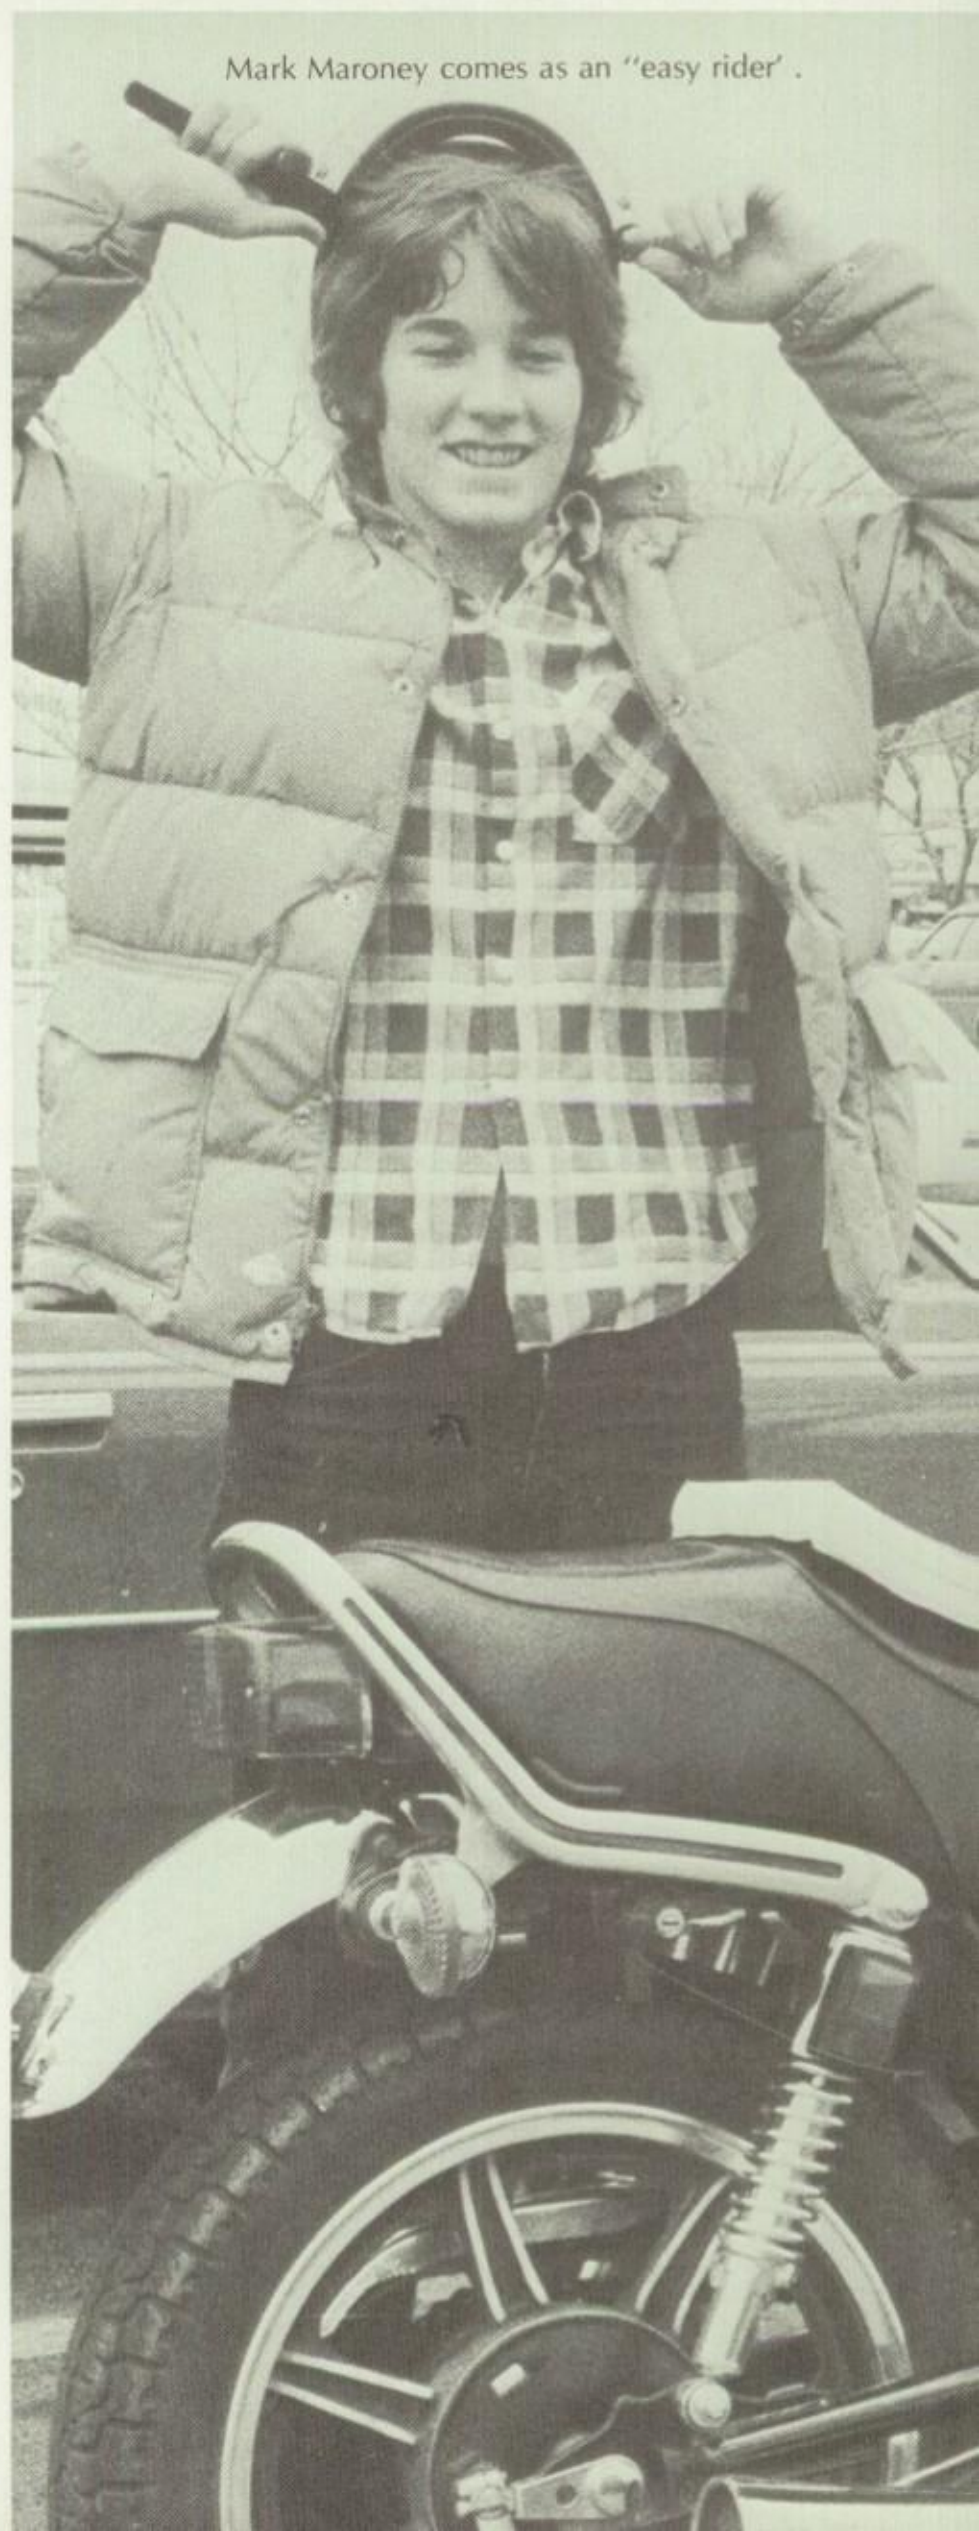

this is the way we go to school

Because we attend a school not centrally located, transportation presented an obstacle. This difficulty was overcome by mild (mild?) sacrifices.

Students were dropped off by their parents who were on their way to work; others braved the wind and cold to catch the bus or a van; still, a few were fortunate to be old enough to drive their own cars.

Pupils came from all parts of Tulsa and many outlying communities. This made "going into all the world" as easy as going home.

Mark Maroney comes as an "easy rider".

Riding the van helps prove the saying, "the more the merrier".

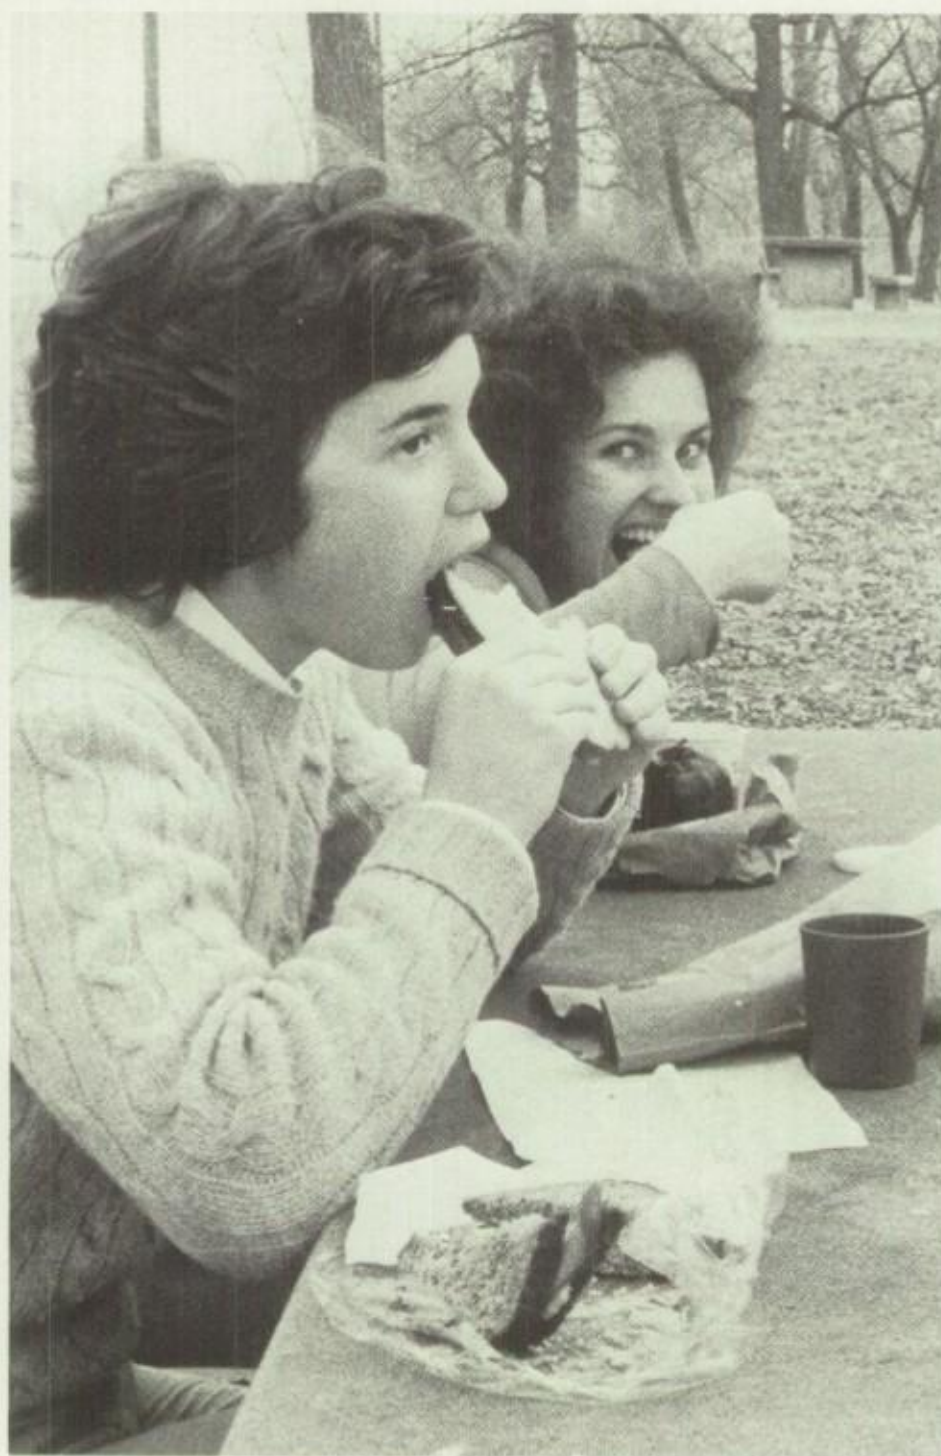

Joe Robinson decides to pass-up the bus and go home by car-pool.

Andrea Griffin is one of the fortunate owners of a car to drive her family to school.

THE MOMENT WE'VE ALL BEEN WAITING FOR... LUNCH!

Jessica Griffin and Tiffany Goodwin go off-campus to eat at local park.

Mr. Parker enjoys lunch with a few of his students.

Mark Rhea gets his ration.

David Donahue and Michael Eng play "food inspectors".

Even on her birthday, Mrs. Drechsler serves in the cafeteria.

Students Learn The Value Of A Dollar

Robbie Thompson teams up with his sister, Christi, to build sundaes at Swensen's.

Collecting for his newspaper route, Chris Vokoun satisfies another customer.

Seniors Sharmayne Hall and Darla Pitts work after school at Sheridan Tapes, preparing cassette tapes for distribution.

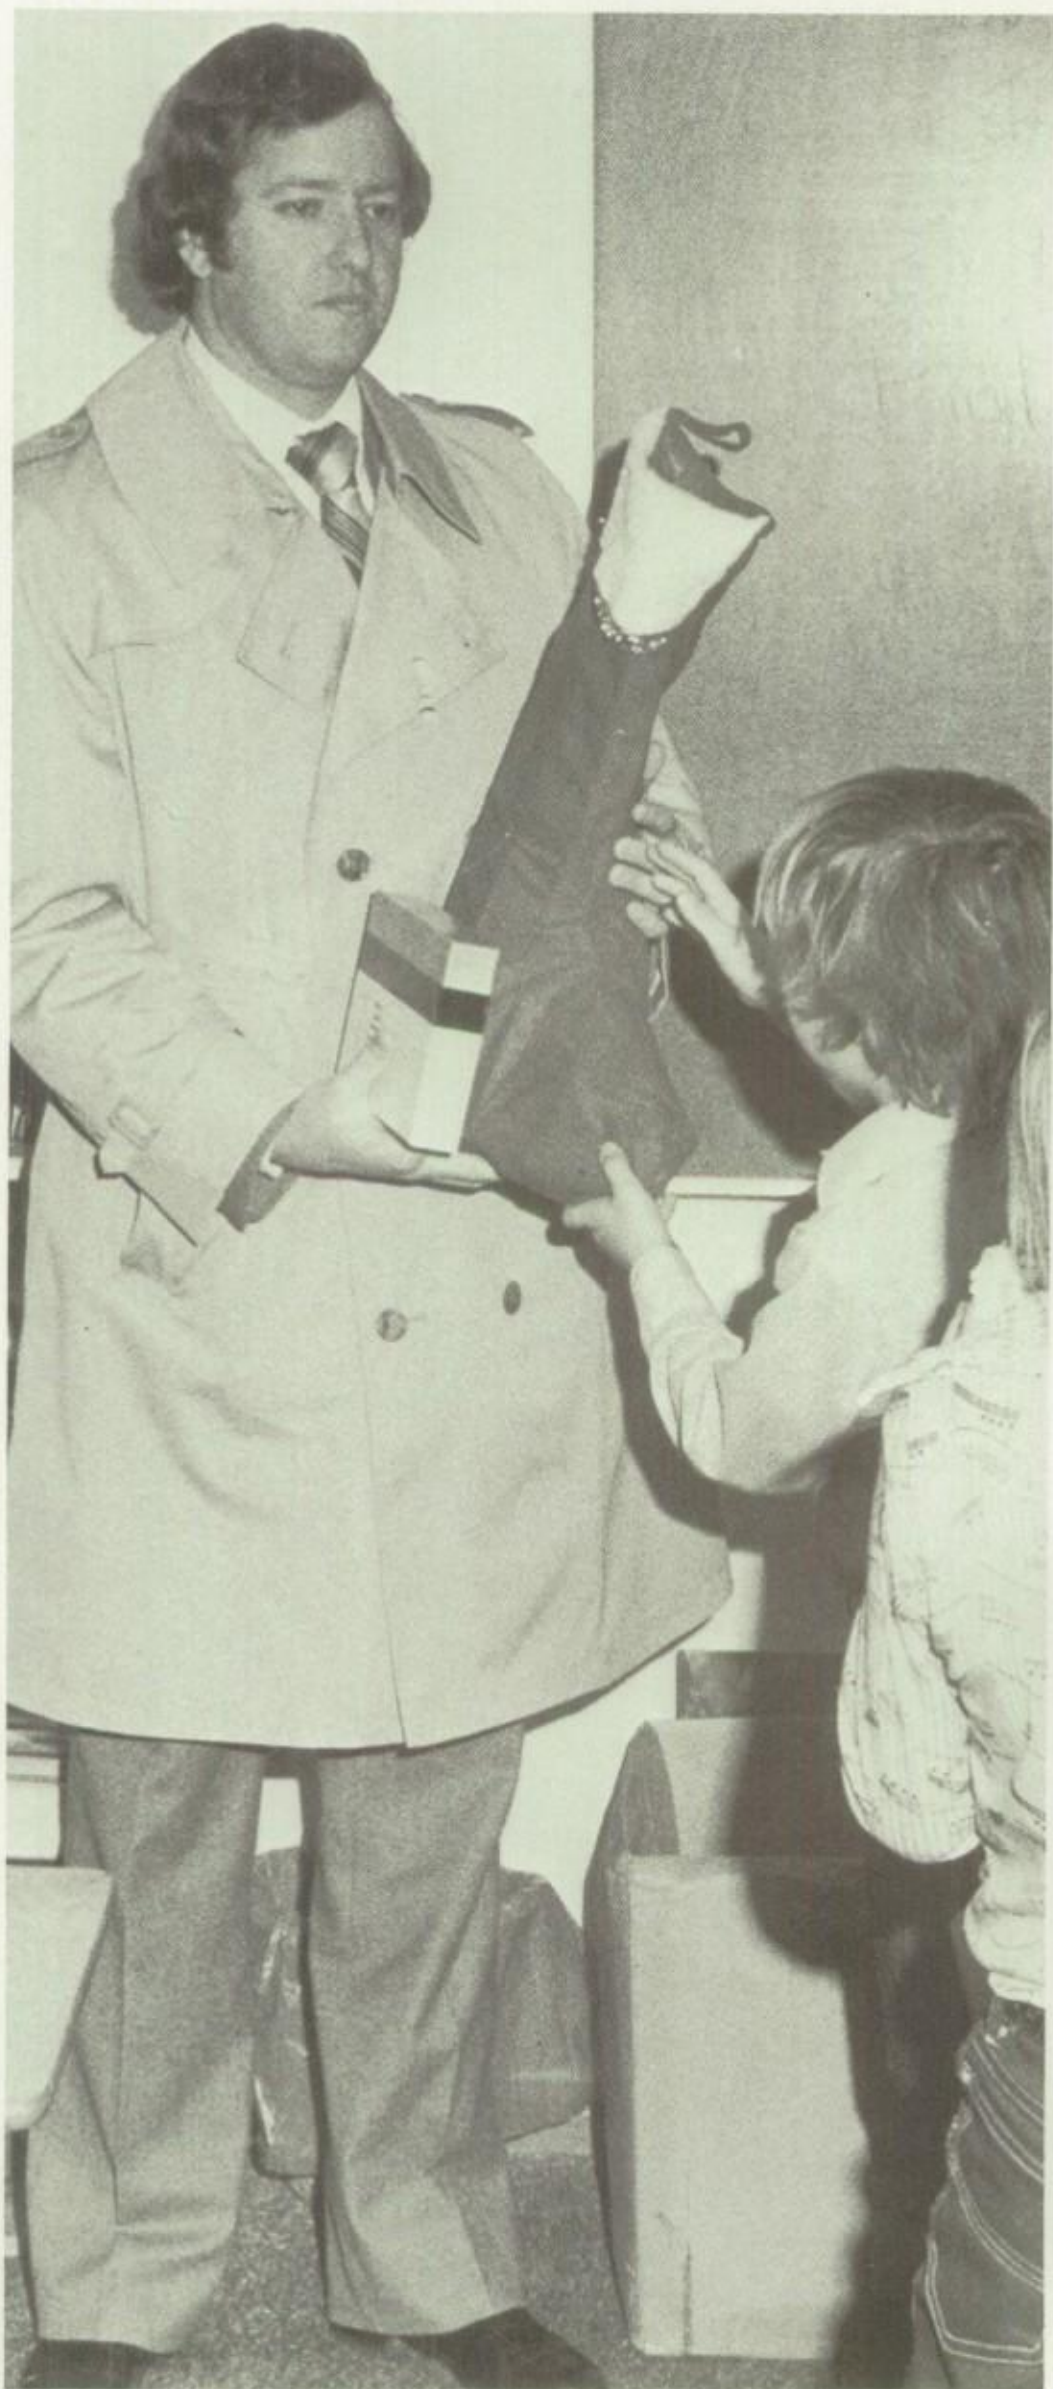

Our own "Candy Man" (or woman), Brenda Enns stocks the vending machines.

The media continually told us that the value of our dollar was decreasing. But somehow, we couldn't buy that. We found that our money, being more precious and harder to get, became more valuable to us. Therefore, we spent our time in the best possible way to earn some extra cash. Then, with a little discipline, we learned to be good stewards: a lesson too valuable on which to put a price.

Catch The Holiday Spirit

The true spirit of Christmas is exhibited in Mrs. Farrell's class as students help KFMJ radio personality David Graves in giving presents to needy children.

Though Sara Curtis realizes that Thanksgiving is more than the feast, she still thinks, "it's fun!"

Mrs. Teter's fifth grade class performs the play "Silent Night"; re-enacting the origin of the song.

Daniele Cogan and Julie Bowman share gifts as part of their class' Christmas celebration, as Jenny and Jennifer look on.

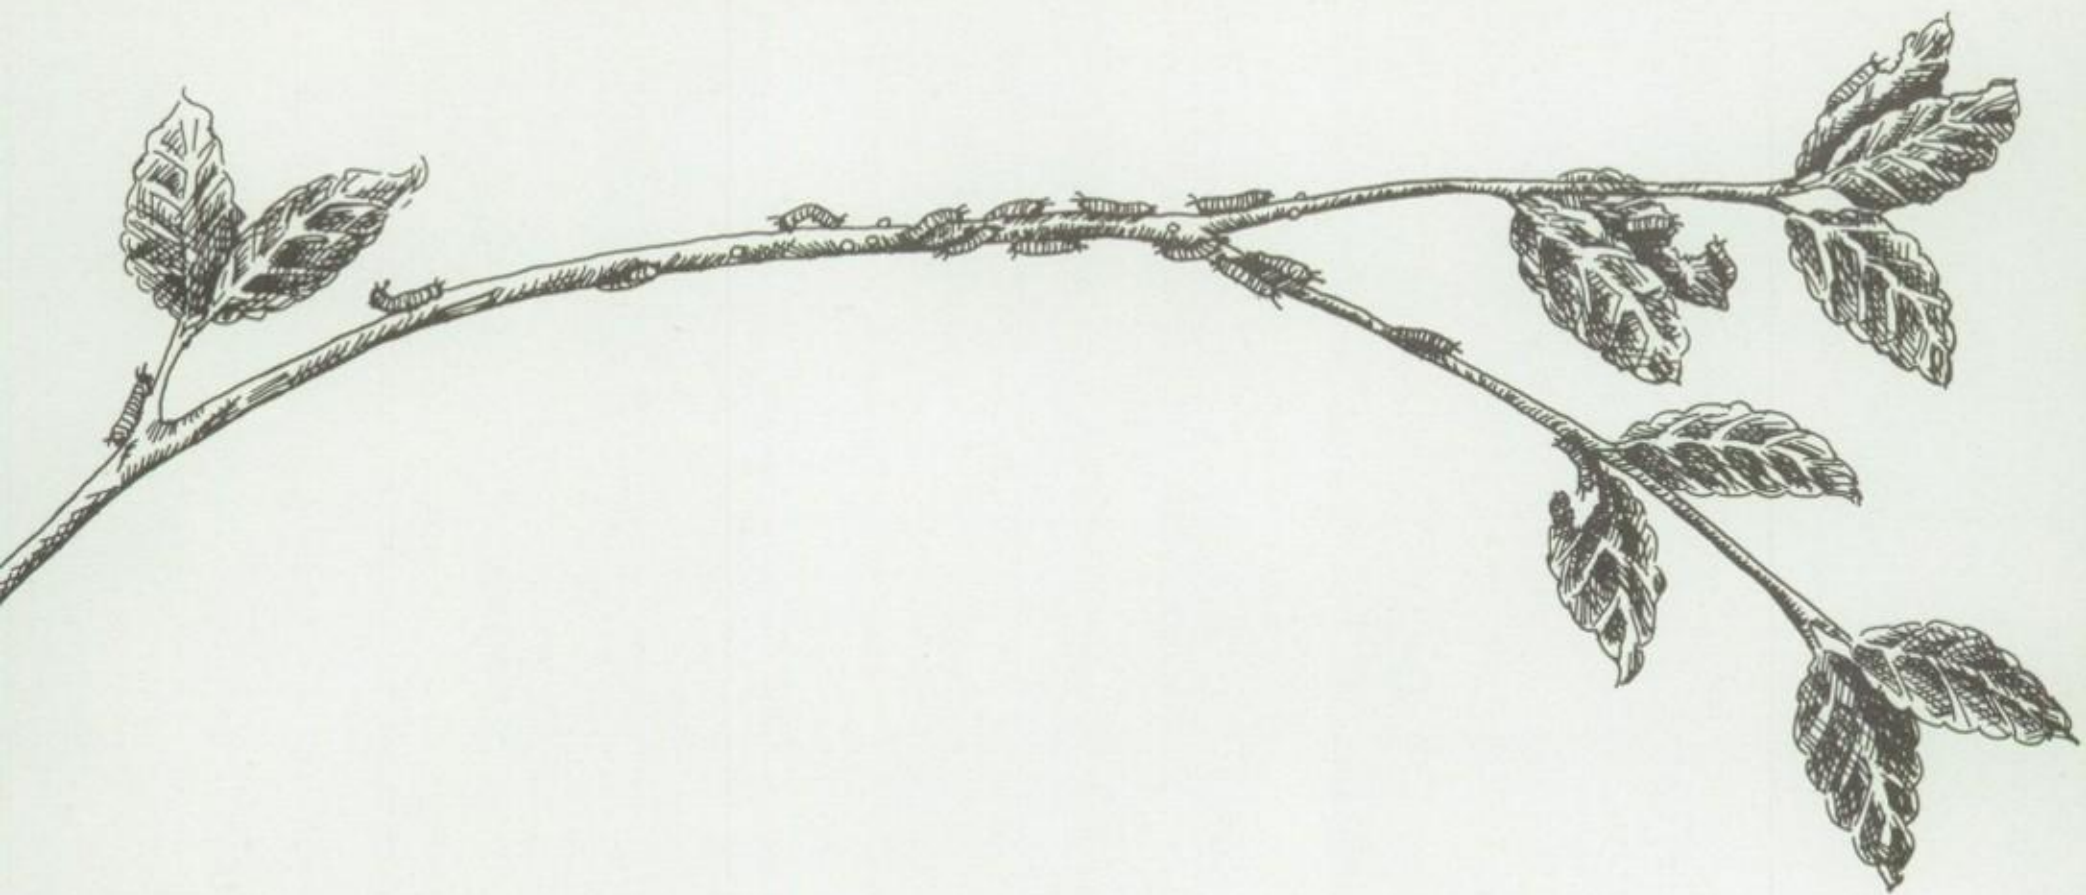

CLASSES

Development Was Education

Thoughts of the innocence of kindergarteners were tucked away and cherished forever. With field trips and other special events, the elementary students found education synonymous with creativity and fun.

Characterized by excitement and often what seemed to be frustration, the transition from elementary into Middle School and High School brought about constant surprises.

Looking Through the Eyes of a Child Opens a Whole New World

Tami Headings and Ian Messerli curiously look on as Tommy Addington holds up newly named mice, Tiger and Olivia.

Walking quietly, single-file down the narrow hall, the four year olds entered their class. Hanging up coats, they stood by the tables and began the day by singing and dancing before the Lord. After quieting down, they gathered in a small circle for their first activity — sharing. Tommy Addington brought two small, gray mice. Following much discussion, and a vote, the mice were named "Tiger" and "Olivia". Crouching low on hands and knees, each kindergarten began whispering to a friend in "mice language."

The kids were taught how God made mice, as well as every other creature, and learned how special each creature is in God's kingdom.

What Is God?

To the second graders, God was pictured as a heavenly Spirit who protected them from harm. He guided them as they rode their bikes and healed their bruises when they fell.

Many realized that He blessed and cared for them because, "He is love." When alone in the dark, they were not afraid, because God was keeping them safe from harm.

They expressed feelings concerning "what God means to me." "God means everything to me," sparkled Shannon Lerner. Carolyn Griffin whispered, "God loves everyone and He made everything." Melinda Kavanaugh explained, "He helps me get good grades at school." "He healed me of my allergies," smiled Jason Way. "He gives me a friend to play with," little Lenore Odom giggled.

With happiness shining from their faces the entire class has been admired as "a gift from God." Praise the Lord for a supernatural year, and their simple understanding of God.

"I talk to God a lot; He's my father when my dad's not home." whispered Jessica Polk.

Experience Is Learning

"Erdis Roper and Julie Vokoun reaps the rewards of hard work from the treasure chest."

The thirty-seven second graders faced each challenge this year with confidence and a big smile. Although the class was divided into separate rooms, it was brought together in love.

Beginning each day they sang songs of praise, and a unique "popcorn-style" confession time allowed the students opportunities to learn the Word. Breaks during the day provided time for relaxation and fun to be shared on the playground. Coupons to open the "Treasure Chest" provided motivation to encourage students in completing their work accurately and on time. These activities were used to open the door a little wider to their Christian education.

"Decisions, decisions, decisions," thought the third graders as they put together their cut-outs.

Never A Dull Moment In Mrs. Farrell's Class

At first glance Mrs. Farrell's room looked like any other normal classroom. But in the far corner, is the Fun Corner. "The Fun Corner was described by some of Mrs. Farrell's third graders: "It's really fun," "It's super nice," and "It makes me work faster, so I get to visit it." This corner offered a variety of things to do. They could be creative on the chalkboard, or play with one of several games, such as water basketball, view master, phonics games, language games, or other academic games. Most of the activities deal with concepts they already know, but it is an entertaining way to reinforce them.

Mrs. Farrell created the Fun Corner for motivation purposes to reward students for assignments completed. Going to the Fun Corner was a privilege earned as they developed self-control while co-operating and sharing during game time.

Learning Can Be Fun

During the year if you happened to be walking by Mrs. Fisher's classroom around nine-thirty, you may have heard the sound of singing voices floating through the crack in the door. The children were in one of their many "Learn By Doing" activities. They were singing along with a record to learn the multiplication tables. There was a different record for each table, each with a different melody. At the end of the record, the children took a quiz. The record played the problem, and the kids sang the answer.

For another multiplication drill, the children were divided into teams, and Mrs. Fisher would present a problem to be solved, and the first person to answer the problem correctly earned a point for their team. At the end, the points were tallied, and one team was declared the winner.

The children enjoyed learning, and will carry that enjoyment of learning with them for the rest of their lives.

"The Effectual Prayer of a Righteous Man Availeth Much"

As the fifth graders walked into their classroom, they felt the excitement around them. In the midst of all the chatter about what happened the day before, or what happened on the way to school, everyone was scurrying to their seats, anxious to be on time. They all opened their Bibles and turned to Ephesians 6, to read their scripture for the day. Then they decided it was the day for a boy to lead the Pledge of Allegiance and the Pledge to their Bibles. After devotions they put their Bibles in the boxes under their desks.

Next, it was time for Prayer Warriors. The whole class raised their hands, wanting to volunteer to pray for their classmates' needs, but the ones who had never been a prayer warrior before were first priority. As they all put their heads down on their desks and closed their eyes, those wanting prayer raised their hands. The three prayer warriors and the teacher went to each uplifted hand to pray. Various needs, such as healing of a backache, healing of a toothache, and numerous requests for strength were met. After all needs were prayed for the "Kindness Agents" wrote kindness notes to their partners for the week. The rest of the day was filled with studies, exercises and lots of jubilation, especially when the bell rang at 3:00 p.m.

Each week the fifth grade participated in what they called "Kindness Agents." Every week each student, after names were chosen, was asked to esteem that person without actually letting anyone know whose name they had. If both students at the end of the week had guessed their "agent" correctly, they received an award. The following were a few examples of the children's correspondence of confidence.

"God bless you! I don't know you, but it's okay, God still loves us both. I will pray for you from now on, even though I don't know you. The Lord wants you to feel strong everyday. God bless you forever and ever. That's all I have to say for now. Your sister in God, Kindness Agent."

"God loves you! You have real good New Creation behavior. You look nice today. You are a new creation and the sunshine of this class. You're more than a conqueror. You've been born again; old things in your life have been passed away, you're just a new creation all over. From Anonymouse."

Through these letters the students learned how to show love to one another and to esteem one another better than himself or herself.

Georgia Dean meditates on the scripture "In everything give thanks" as she prepares her "Kindness Agent."

Music Is A New Outlet Of Talent

Music gave opportunity for the seventh grade class to demonstrate some of their talents. With guitars, band instruments, gym bags plus loads of text books, the seventh graders asked, "Where do we put all our belongings?" "What is a fret?" asked hopeful guitarists, as Mrs. Maynard patiently instructed the beginners. Strumming on his old guitar, Nelson West burst forth in worship and praise.

Auditions were scheduled and individuals were chosen for parts in the program David Grothe planned in the Fall.

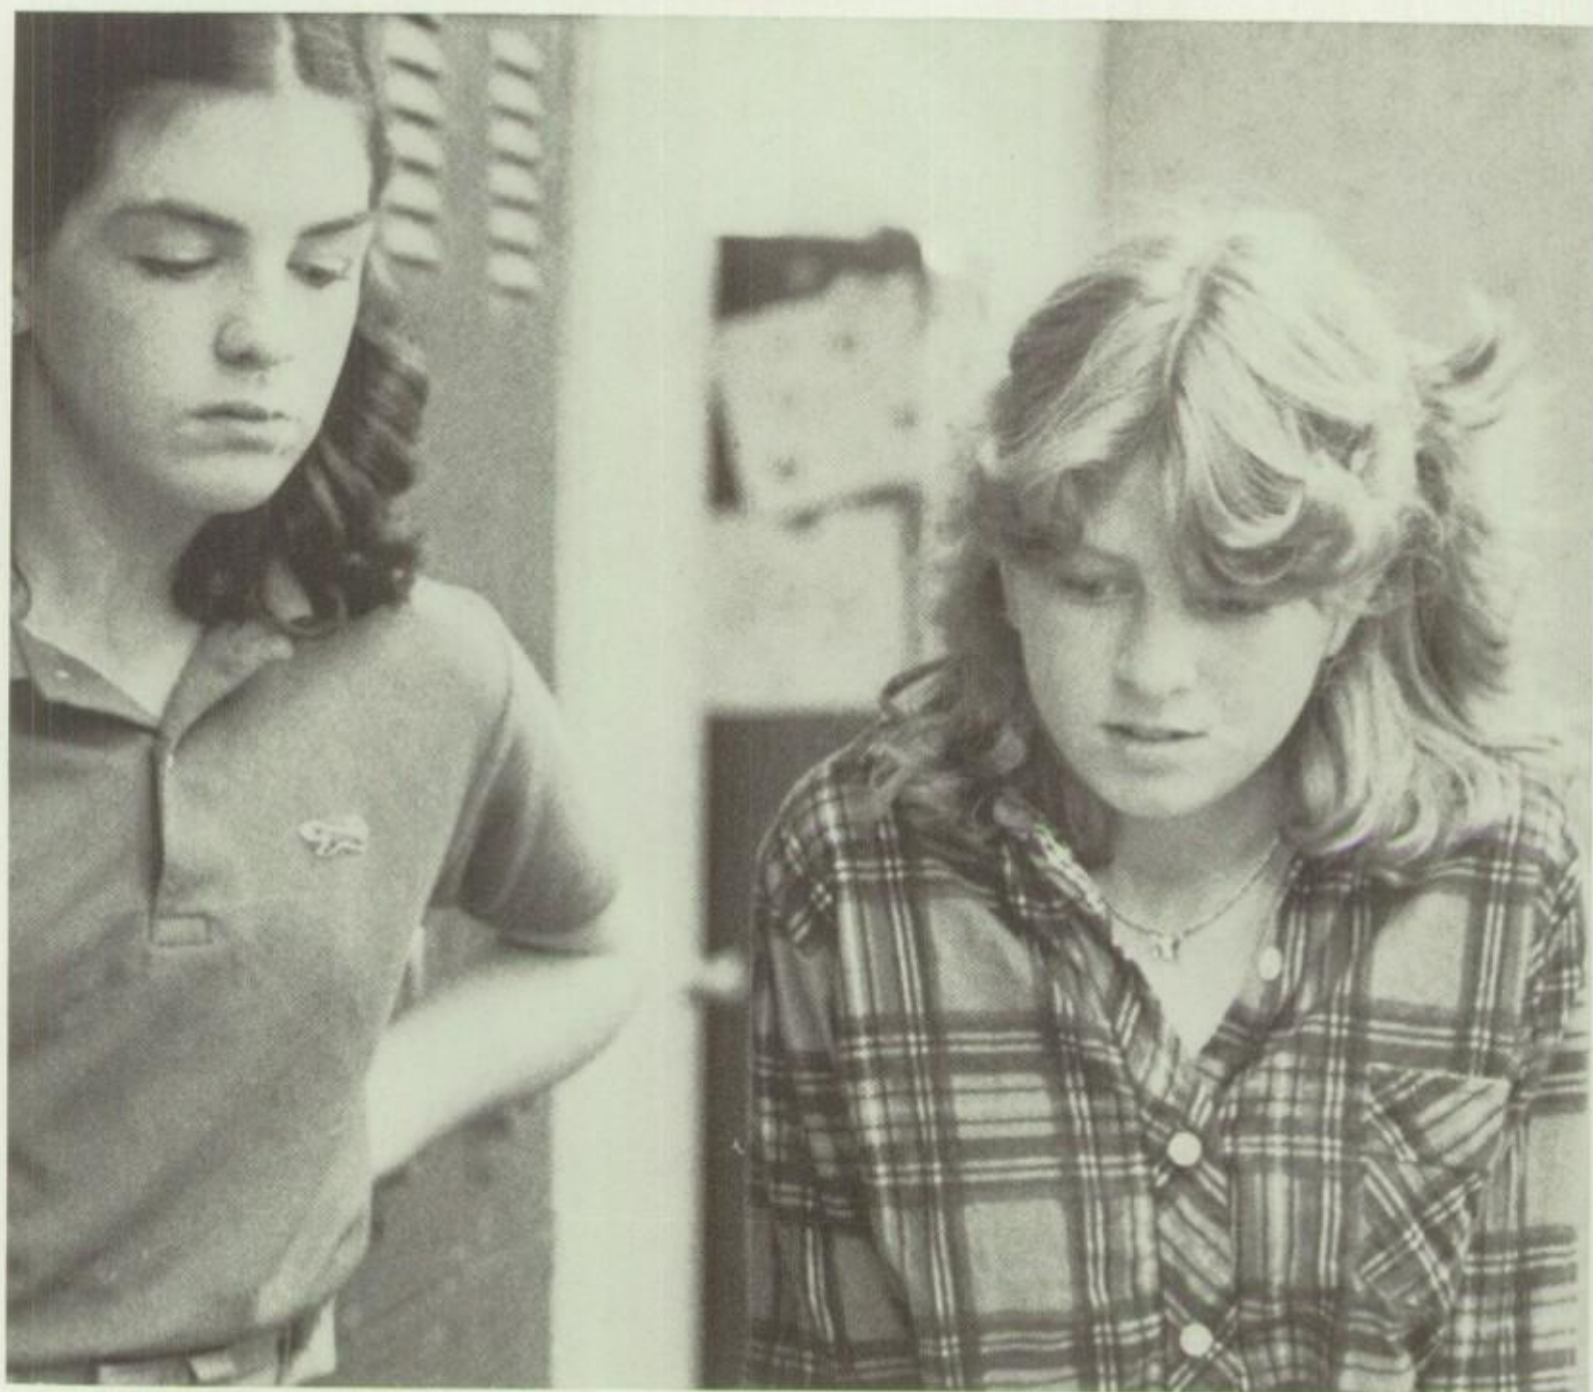

Emotions were stirred, and hearts were blessed as the sound track started and soloist, Mary Hodge, with the back-up of the chorus sang, Lord, I'm Coming Home Today.

Throughout the entire year this class engaged itself in various musical ventures, declaring, "We worship God through music!"

Eighth Grade Speaks Out

The eighth graders expressed varying opinions and attitudes concerning SCS as opposed to other schools. John Medlock stated a bit of profound wisdom, "Sheridan is a Christian school . . . Most public schools aren't."

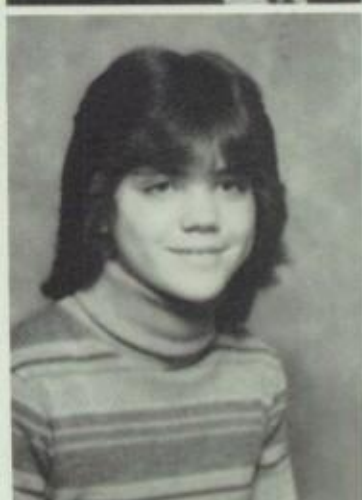

Responses concerning their reasons for enrolling at SCS included statements like: "Mom wanted me to," and "At public school it is hard to find Christians friends!"

Most of these students have plans to graduate from SCS, unless they move out of town.

Arrived, In Their Cars

A visible sign of sophomore status was a car, and the precious few that had them were looked up to by the lower grades and counted on by their friends.

A new book, the Oklahoma Driver's Manual, was added as a textbook for drivers' education, and was pored over from cover to cover. A new card, a driving permit, was added to the wallet, and was passed around by admiring peers.

By driving a car, sophomores experienced a real feeling of independence. Lower classmen saw all the fun, but were unaware of the responsibility of owning one's own car.

As the year progressed, new vehicles began emerging in the student parking lot. Who were these vaguely familiar faces, crowding the parking, blocking the exits, and causing commotion at lunch? They were the sixteen year old tenth graders.

Scott finds the necessity of a break from the busy activities.

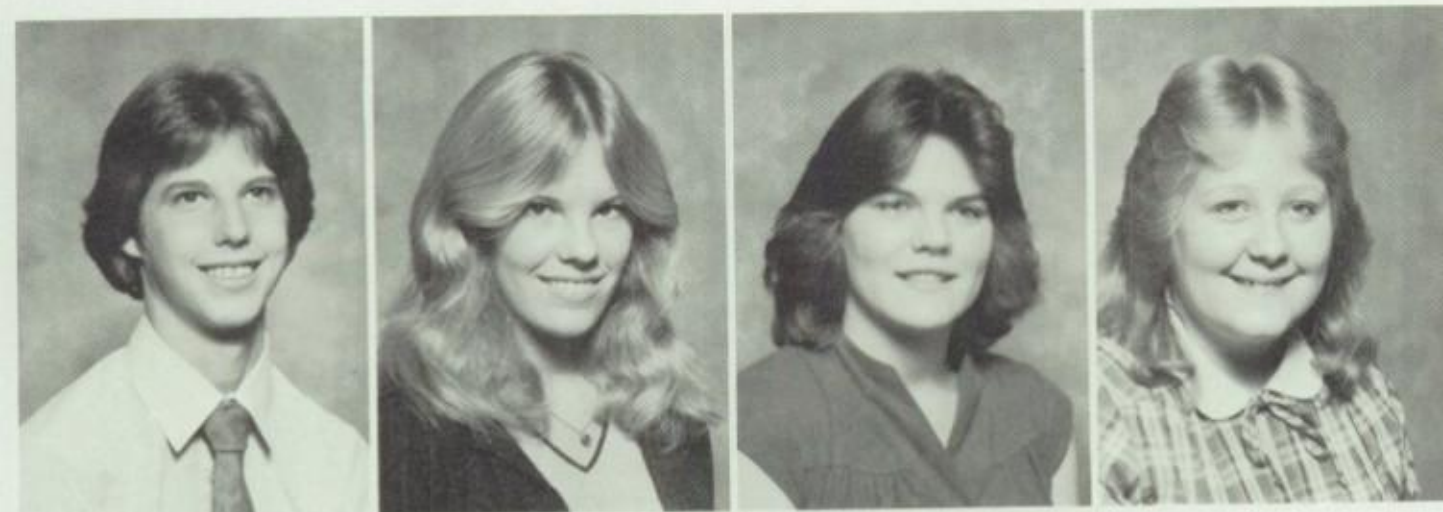

Sophomores have gained momentum, and they readily accepted the challenge of high school life. Probably their best friends were the vending machines.

Subjects such as chemistry and Algebra II probe their minds. Somehow students like Scott Hughes had the ability to be in every sport, regardless of the strain it put on his social life. Through it all Renee Donohue and Andrea Griffin had the class confirming, "We are the best Sophomore class ever."

Officers Set The Pace

Brenda Enns, Reni Benningfield, Karen Dee, Tim Hodge

The senior class officers, doubling as the school officers, strived to see our school come to the peak of quality by the end of the year. Tim Hodge, president, with the help of the vice-president, Karen Dee; treasurer, Brenda Enns; and secretary, Reni Benningfield set a precedent for years to come. They were followers of the Holy Spirit and doers of the Word. Tim felt that unity was the key to Sheridan's success; for, "a house divided against itself cannot stand!"

John Redmond, Kelly Carlson, Kim Vokoun, David Martinez

One goal of the junior class officers was to see the school come together in unity like a family. John Redmond, president; David Martinez, vice-president; Kelly Carlson, treasurer; and Kim Vokoun, secretary were always willing to accept input from the students to help Sheridan become a model school.

Jesus Directs My Life

Rebecca Ann Barnes

Getting settled in SCS Becky found that all feelings of reluctance to move from her high school in Carbondale, IL had faded. In fact, she declared, "It's (Sheridan Christian School) the best school I have ever been in and believe me, I've been in many schools!"

Becky has spent volunteer time working with the sixth grade class. Shortly after her birthday last January 25, Becky made a positive statement of faith accepting Jesus as Lord of her life. She has chosen Prov. 3:5,6 as a directive for her life: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths."

Lord, Make Me A Vessel

Bible is her hand, face aglow, Reni would glide into her V.B.I. class each morning, eager to be taught. She has offered herself as a willing vessel. Prophecy spoken to her revealed a spiritual gift of a ministry to the lost, and of healing.

Various activities have beckoned Reni. She was a full-time VBI student, and flag football statistician, SCS senior class secretary and advertising editor for the VISION.

Her beautiful voice could be heard in the special high school ensemble group and as a soloist. Not only has she been active in fall sports, but she played softball and volleyball.

Curled up, often in her most comfortable chair, Reni isolated herself, to read — to read especially the Word. She focused upon Matthew 16:18, "... and upon this rock I will build my church ..." her eyelids closed, and she continued to entreat, "Lord, make me a vessel."

He's A Stout-Hearted Letterman

"Dal-a who?" asked all the students and teachers the first week of school. Imagine, this stout-hearted, curly-haired, Italian letterman left his championship team to enter a Christian high school for his senior year.

It was close to his seventeenth birthday on August 12 that Peter sat in Mr. Booth's office and discussed enrolling as a student at SCS. Learning that varsity sports included wrestling, challenged him.

Peter has dedicated this year to the Lord; to learn more of His Word and to grow to become the man God wants him to be. When asked why he came to SCS, he said, "The Lord told me to."

His future plans are not complete, but he might continue a second year at VBI or enroll for a two-year course at Rhema Bible Training Center.

Music Comes From The Heart

"Neglect not the gift", (I Timothy 4:14) has been the challenge Karen Dee took for her life. Born March 11, 1963 in Tulsa, she has planned to stay in town to attend ORU majoring in music. Karen plays instruments such as: the flute, sax, drums and guitar and hopes to use these talents in a traveling music ministry. She is also involved in a high school youth ensemble which is now traveling different places, fulfilling a prophecy given two years ago.

As vice-president of the senior class, Karen has had a busy schedule which includes softball, volleyball and working as layout editor to the Vision.

"Let your life so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify God." (Matt. 5:16). Karen's goal has been set in this direction. Counseling with people, especially the youth, has been a part of Karen's life.

The Lord Is My Shepherd

Linda Kaye Drechsler

Just fifteen days before Christmas, Linda celebrated her nineteenth birthday. When she was five, she accepted Jesus as her Savior. SCC became her home church and SCS her school.

Linda sings with confidence in the "One Accord" youth choir of SCC. Having been accepted at Oral Roberts University, Linda will enter the field of dentistry.

The Imperials won rating on Linda's list of music groups. "They're so Word-oriented, you can be blessed listening to one of their albums," she says. The Twenty-Seventh Psalm has become one of her favorite scriptures.

Her favorite sport has been water and snow skiing. She has liked the outdoors, and in her spare time walking or jogging. "I enjoy being with people, but I like to be alone, too; I like time to myself."

Her classes this year included Bible, Accounting I, music, theory, Spanish II, and she served as a teacher's aid for Mrs. Schluter's math class. She has been convinced, "It is great to be among the first graduating class of SCS." Being at SCS has helped Linda to see that she has a call to minister His Word.

Brenda Darlene Enns

Jesus Is My Song

Canada's loss has been our gain. Brenda has smiled herself into the hearts of all the SCS family.

Her strong soprano voice has blended into the Senior Ensemble. She was assistant copy editor of the Vision, and treasurer of the senior class.

Throughout the year, Brenda enjoyed reading and cooking — especially gourmet cooking — and talked of learning to fly.

Brenda was true to her commitment that with God's help, her senior year would be the best. This year has been a period of preparation for her future fulltime ministry in singing. She drew strength from Philippians 4:6 and re-affirmed, "I know I don't have to worry about anything, and that God will answer all my requests, and my way will be prosperous."

Sheila Speaks Silently

As an outstanding student in the art-elective class, Sheila's pencil sketches have received much recognition. After attending Tulsa Central for two years, she transferred to Sheridan Christian School in order to be taught in the Word as well as academically.

A descendant of the Cherokee Indian tribe, Sheila enjoyed many crafts, among which were latch-hooking dolls, wall hangings, and rugs. That slight dimple in her cheek has greatly enriched her smile; a smile that comes from a heart full of love. Her birth certificate records that she was born April 8, 1963, but she says she was "born again" four years later.

As soon as Sheridan Christian Center's television ministry is ready to begin, Sheila had an express desire to be the person in the corner of the screen, silently speaking with her hands a new language — Dactylology.

A Smile Is My Style

Sharmayne Yvonne Hall

Sharmayne's radiant smile is a reflection of the joy in her heart. Her favorite scripture is I Timothy 4:12, "Let no man despise thy youth." Incidentally, she, born May 2, 1964, in Hollywood, Ca. is one of the youngest graduates of the class of 1981.

Her senior year has been enriched by her involvement as secretary-treasurer of the varsity cheerleading squad and the opportunity to display her expertise as a yearbook photographer. Immediately following graduation she will enroll in VBI. In the fall of 1982 she plans to enter ORU majoring in business and minoring in physical education.

I'm Not Mr. Rodgers

"It's a beautiful day in the neighborhood," sang Bobby as he tied his spotless white Nikes before attiring himself in his blue and gold jersey.

Even though he was born on April Fool's day in Kalamazoo, Michigan, Bobby actually stated, "I'm from Nashville, Tennessee, and that's where I belong!"

With the camera in his hand and the strap around his neck, Bobby met photo assignments as a real "shutterbug". Squeegee in his hand and a smile all over his face, our dignified senior sought employment as a part-time window washer.

Bobby is convinced that his choice to leave Lord's Chapel in Nashville, and come to S.C.S. was directed by the Lord. Whatever he did, he decided to do it heartily as unto the Lord.

Animators Are Funny People

Timotheus is a tradition of animation, humorous illustrations, acting and puppeteering. Making animated cartoons has become the main ambition for Timothy Aaron Hodge.

A unique cartoon character, created for his campaign poster, "The Conqueror" has become the SCS mascot. Tim was elected president of SCS's first senior class and student council. Tim has entertained groups throughout the year. His artistic ability allowed him to serve as art editor for Vision, carve pumpkins for the October Rock-a-thon, produce humorous illustrations for brochures, and assist Mr. Parker's fifth grade class as a student aid in art training.

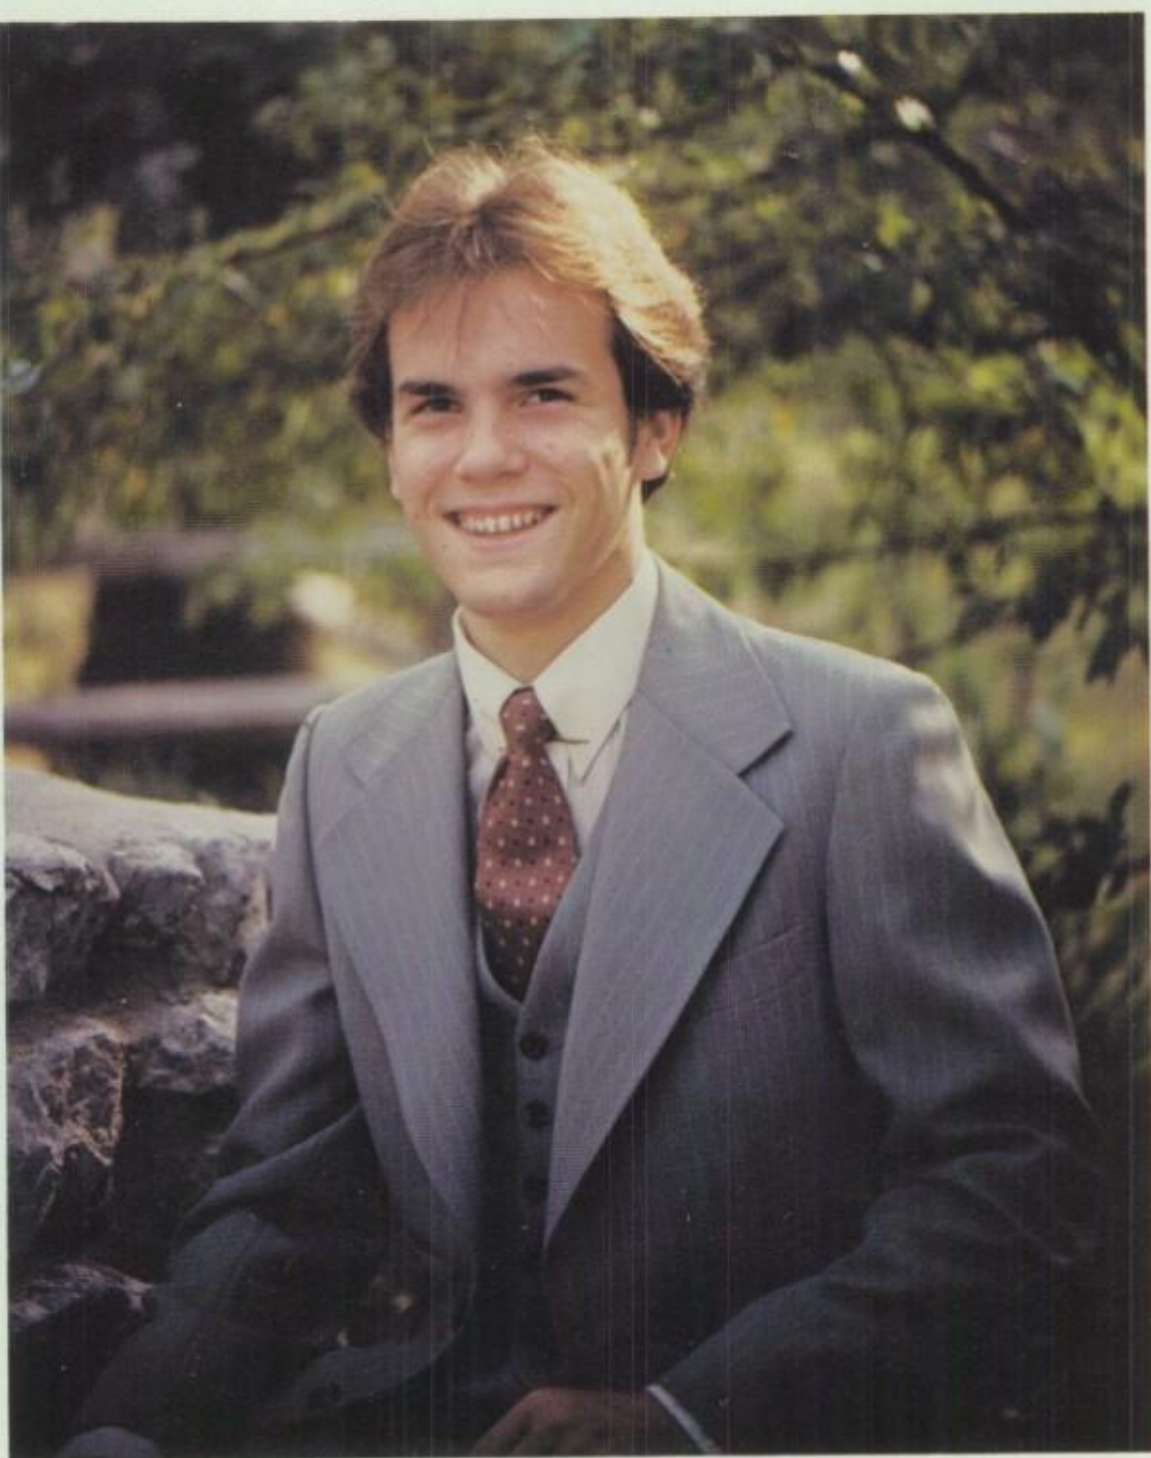

Born on a mountain-top in Boaz, Alabama, April 2, 1963, Tim began life in the South. He was reared mostly in Bristol, Tennessee, but has lived throughout the eastern United States. Much spice has been added to Tim's past — a taste of New York, a bite of the Texas type atmosphere and a major morsel of Tulsa.

His adventurous nature has been demonstrated by his success in riding his unicycle, juggling acts, playing his harmonica, picking his banjo and, strumming his uke.

Tim has made plans to "stay put" in Tulsa, attend ORU and begin producing influential movies, both animated, and live action, as a way to combine quality entertainment and the teaching of the Word of God.

Tim has made reading the Bible the most important part of his daily life. He has enjoyed reading the books of Timothy, but his favorite passage is the Sermon on the Mount. "After you know how to be saved," Tim explained, "it teaches you how to be a Christian. But the scripture that has ministered to me the most is Ephesians 1:2 — "Grace be to you, and peace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ."

Let No Man Despise His Youth

The organizing of Sheridan Christian School caused Larry to make the decision to be counted as a part of the first graduating class here at SCS.

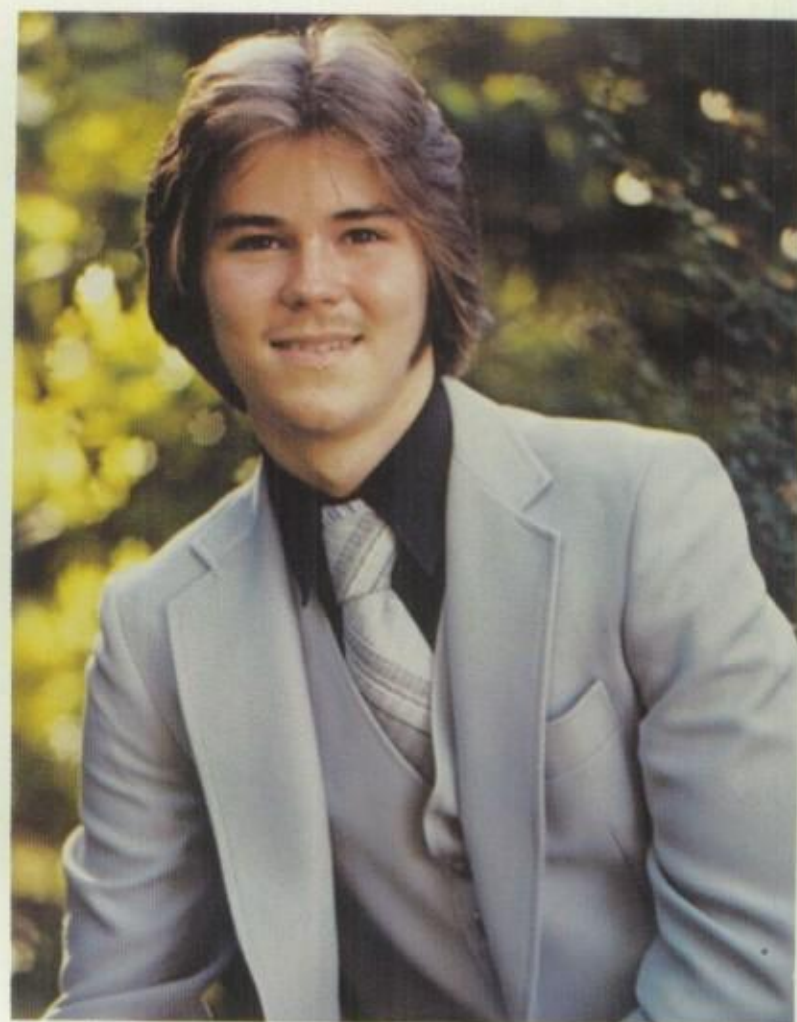

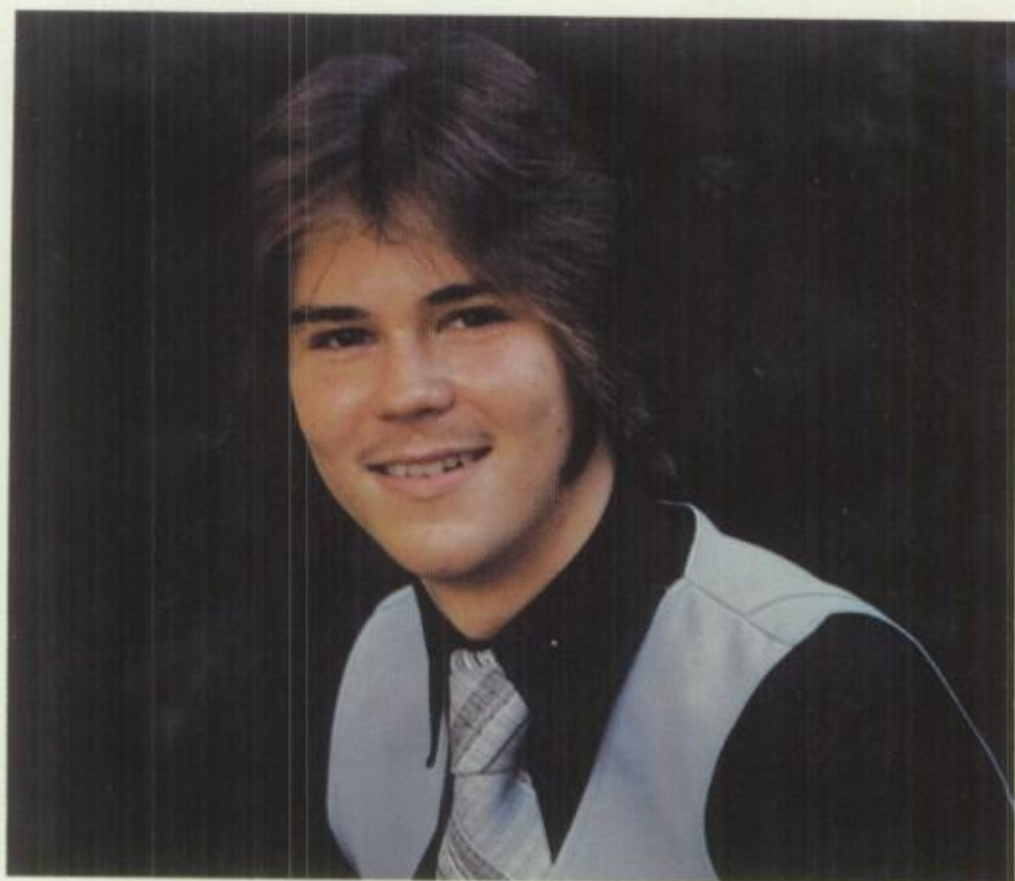

In addition to varsity baseball, Larry was a starter in basketball. Since May, he has been taking flying lessons, and soloed shortly before his birthday, Aug. 9. He now has his student's pilot license.

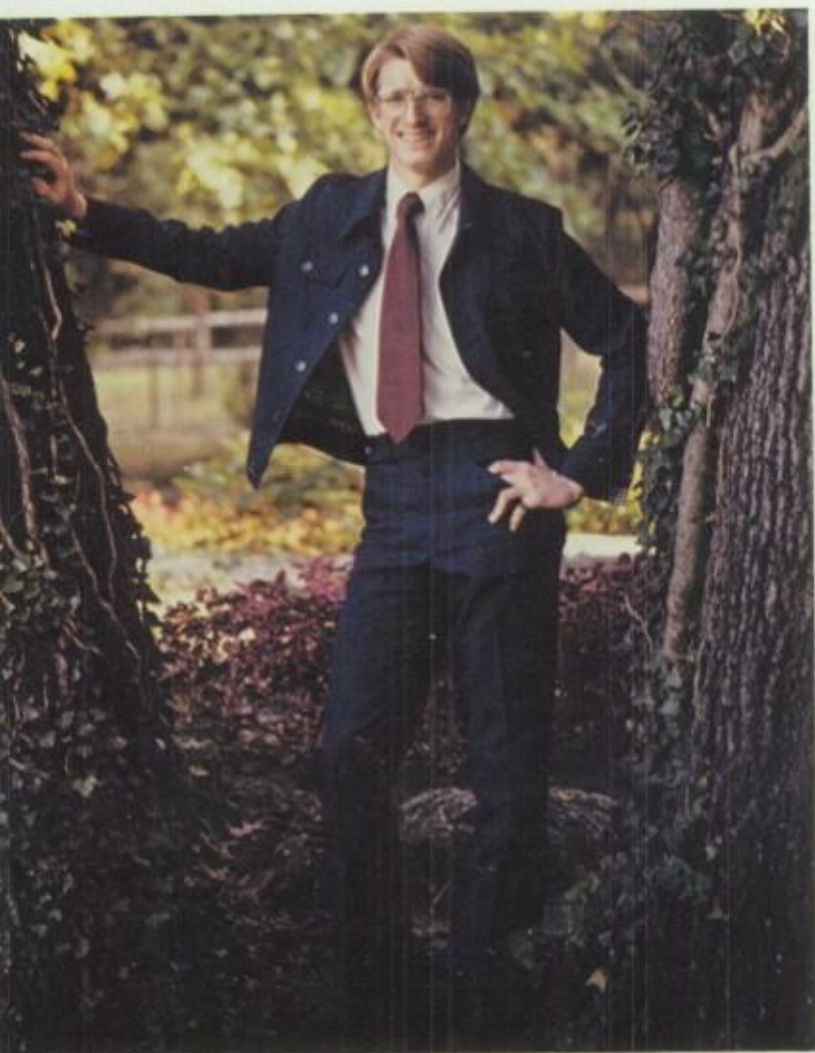

After graduation, he will be gaining practical experience as an evangelist and missionary. Larry became a full-time VBI student this year, while he was attending SCS, after which he plans to attend Bible College.

I Timothy 4:12 "Let no man despise thy youth . . ." has been a special scripture to him. Realizing his youth, Larry affirmed, "I want to be used while I'm young, even now, so that, by the time I am twenty-five or thirty, the Lord's plan for my life will be fully visible."

In an effort to trace his German ancestry, Steve has set a goal to return to Germany and scan the Bavarian archives in Munich for the records of the village of Anterwolfsstein, Bavaria. Because of his fluency in the German language, he would suffer no culture shock in this venture.

Even though Steve is our youngest graduate, he has completed math courses through differential calculus. Steve will celebrate his seventeenth birthday, Sept. 21, 1981, as a freshman at ORU, preparing for a major in a technical field.

Laughter Is My Hobby

A comedienne, laughter is her hobby.

Darla Gail Pitts was born on Oct. 31, 1963, in Norman, Oklahoma.

All sports receive Darla's attention, but water skiing, riding horses, and making people laugh are her favorites. Darla has kept busy through the year by being involved with VBI, softball teams, the school newspaper, and just being a student. Even though her schedule has always been full, putting the Lord first was her main priority.

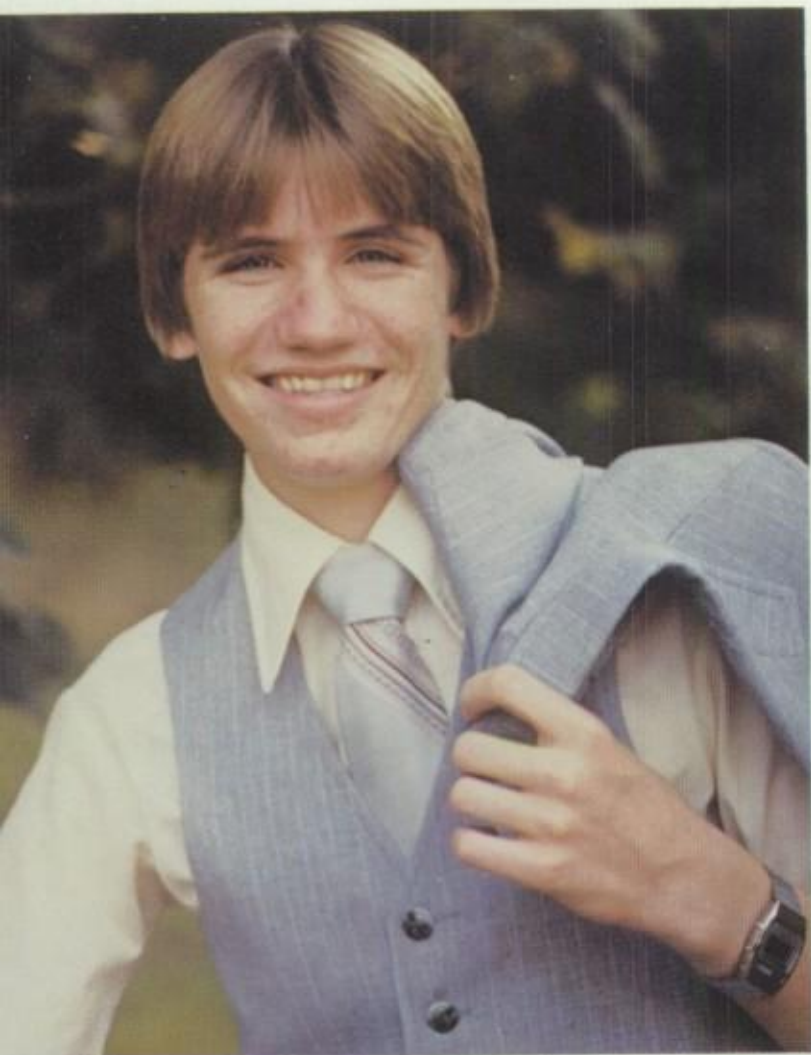

Her plans after graduation are to attend a school for teaching and helping disabled children, both in homes and hospitals. Darla's ministry is constantly being fulfilled by working with the Sheridan Tapes.

Heb. 4:12 is one of Darla's favorite passages in the Bible. "Because it makes me realize how much power the Word of God has in it, and that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom," smiled Darla. Becoming completely serious, she also stated, "Psalm 19:14 is what I want to pattern my life after, because I want to know that all I say and do will please the Lord, for He is my strength and my redeemer."

God Supplies My Needs

Thomas Eric Sawyer

Four years ago, while visiting his dad, Tom became a Christian. "After dinner when my dad and I were talking, he told me how to accept Christ and I accepted Him. It felt like a ton was lifted off my shoulders." His favorite scripture is Luke 6:38, "Give and it shall be given unto you, good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over shall men give unto your bosom."

Tom served as the photography editor for "The Inspiration". He has busied himself with camping, fishing and hunting, as well as rock and mineral collecting.

After graduation and Tom's eighteenth birthday, May 26, his family will make a missionary trip to the Philippines.

Tom said, "In my opinion, this is the best school in the world. I enjoy it and the teachers, students and I share the vision of the school."

Senior Days Speed Away

"I can't believe how fast high school has gone. Being a senior is exciting," commented Christi, seventeen. "There are benefits to being a senior — last year of high school, senior pictures, senior trip. But it's challenging in that next year I'll be going into the 'big world'."

Born in Phoenix, AZ, on July 27, 1963, Christi plans to return there to attend Glyndale Community College, majoring in business.

Christi accepted Jesus at the age of nine. "The Lord has done so much for me!" said Christi. "My family has been living totally by faith, and He supplies all of our needs. A favorite scripture for her was Mark 11:24, because "I can claim it for just about every need I have."

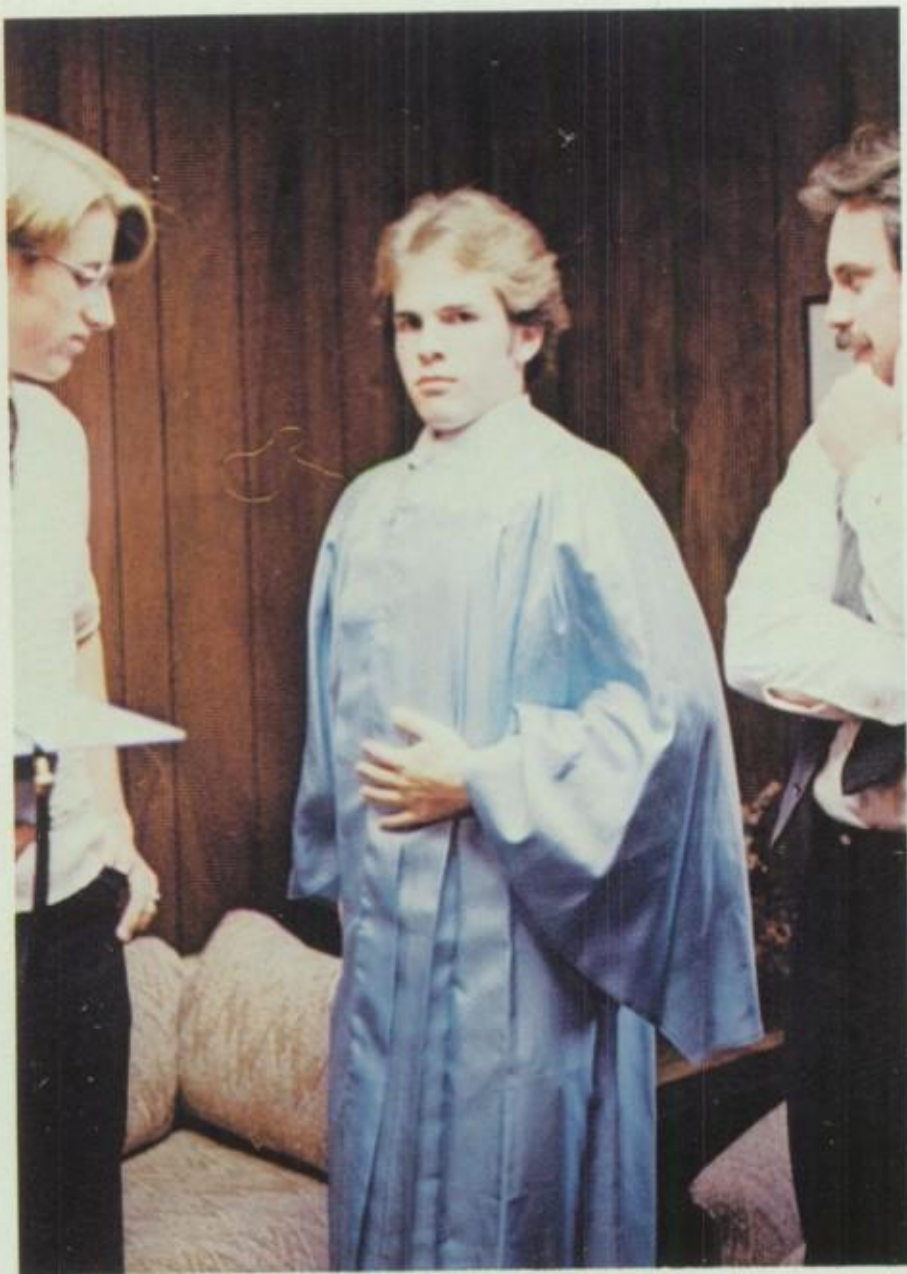

Christi enjoyed such sports as racquetball and softball. Extracurricular activities included being senior class editor for the Vision and being a teacher's aid for Mr. Halbrook in the science department. As a student, she was thankful that the Word is being taught daily.

Seniors Prepare For The Big Event

Schoolmates since kindergarten, Karen and Linda select their dresses for graduation activities.

Eureka . . . We Have Found It!

Excitement swelled — juniors and seniors scurried, making plans for the long-awaited weekend in Eureka Springs, AR. Three vans, pulled up to the south entrance of SCS and were loaded with boxes of food and four or five guitars, which left just enough room to sandwich the students into the seats. After two and a half hours, one flat tire, rehearsal of many humorous skits, one great road-side frisbee game, and a hillside choir practice, the students jostled down the steep, winding hill to the "motel" Mount Air.

Steve Neimeister took a deep breath and smelled the mountains and trees. Tim Hodge joked, "There's a bite in the air." The group entered the century-old dwelling, which was to be their home for the weekend of Oct. 10-12. Lights were out at one-fifteen; but talking continued, laughter was spontaneous. Finally, around 3:00 everyone had settled into the new surroundings.

The cool, crisp morning air revealed a peaceful scene beheld from the back porch. The day that followed was full of excitement. An excursion through town revealed a busy little community of gift shops and unique restaurants.

They then gathered for a "pottery lesson," and learned how God can take a lump of clay and form it into a vessel, fit for the Master's use. That evening, as the sun sank below the horizon, the group assembled at the Mt. Oberammergau Amphitheatre, where the touching portrayal of the last week of Jesus' life, known as the Passion Play, was presented. Everyone was deeply moved by this vivid reenactment. Back at their weekend home, they gathered in an upper room for a quiet Communion service that was a beautiful reconciliation of spirits, with God and each other.

Ninth And Tenth Graders Organize Ideas

Greg Hittle, Lisa Chapman, Cheryl Miles, Terri Hudson

Sophomore class officers thought the most important part of a student government was to make improvements in the school while serving the students and the Lord.

Greg Hittle, class president, was willing to give all he had for the students throughout the year. He organized the ideas and desires of the sophomore class and also started a Bible study in the chapel during a study hall.

Cheryl Miles, vice-president, Lisa Chapman, treasurer, and Terri Hudson, secretary, worked together with Greg to make this year superb for the sophomores.

Being a freshman at SCS was a preferred position. After the week of campaigning with posters and speeches, the following were elected: David D'Allessandro, president; Julie Erlandson, vice-president; David Ingles, treasurer and Nanc'jo Shassberger, secretary. David has led the class spiritually, as well as academically.

They believed there was a spirit of unity within their class. Considerable progress was made in reaching the goals set forth by the whole class.

The seventh grade officers: Derek Turner, president, B.J. Tilney, vice-president, Roger Martinez, treasurer and Mary Hodge, secretary. Derek served the students and met their needs with the help of Christ.

The eighth grade class officers felt their government was a good witness for Christ. They tried to be examples for the other students. Marianne Neimeister, president Lisa Larsen, vice-president, Peter Redmond, treasurer and Janice Meirer, secretary, felt by working hand-in-hand with God, they could accomplish much.

FACULTY

The Substance Of Things Hoped For . . .

Although some alternate reason like finding a spiritual development was held for coming to SCS, the primary purpose was still for an academic excellence without compromise. A good education required developing both a disciplined life-style and mind. This discipline is also what was required to get a life in order.

Pastor Daugherty Speaks

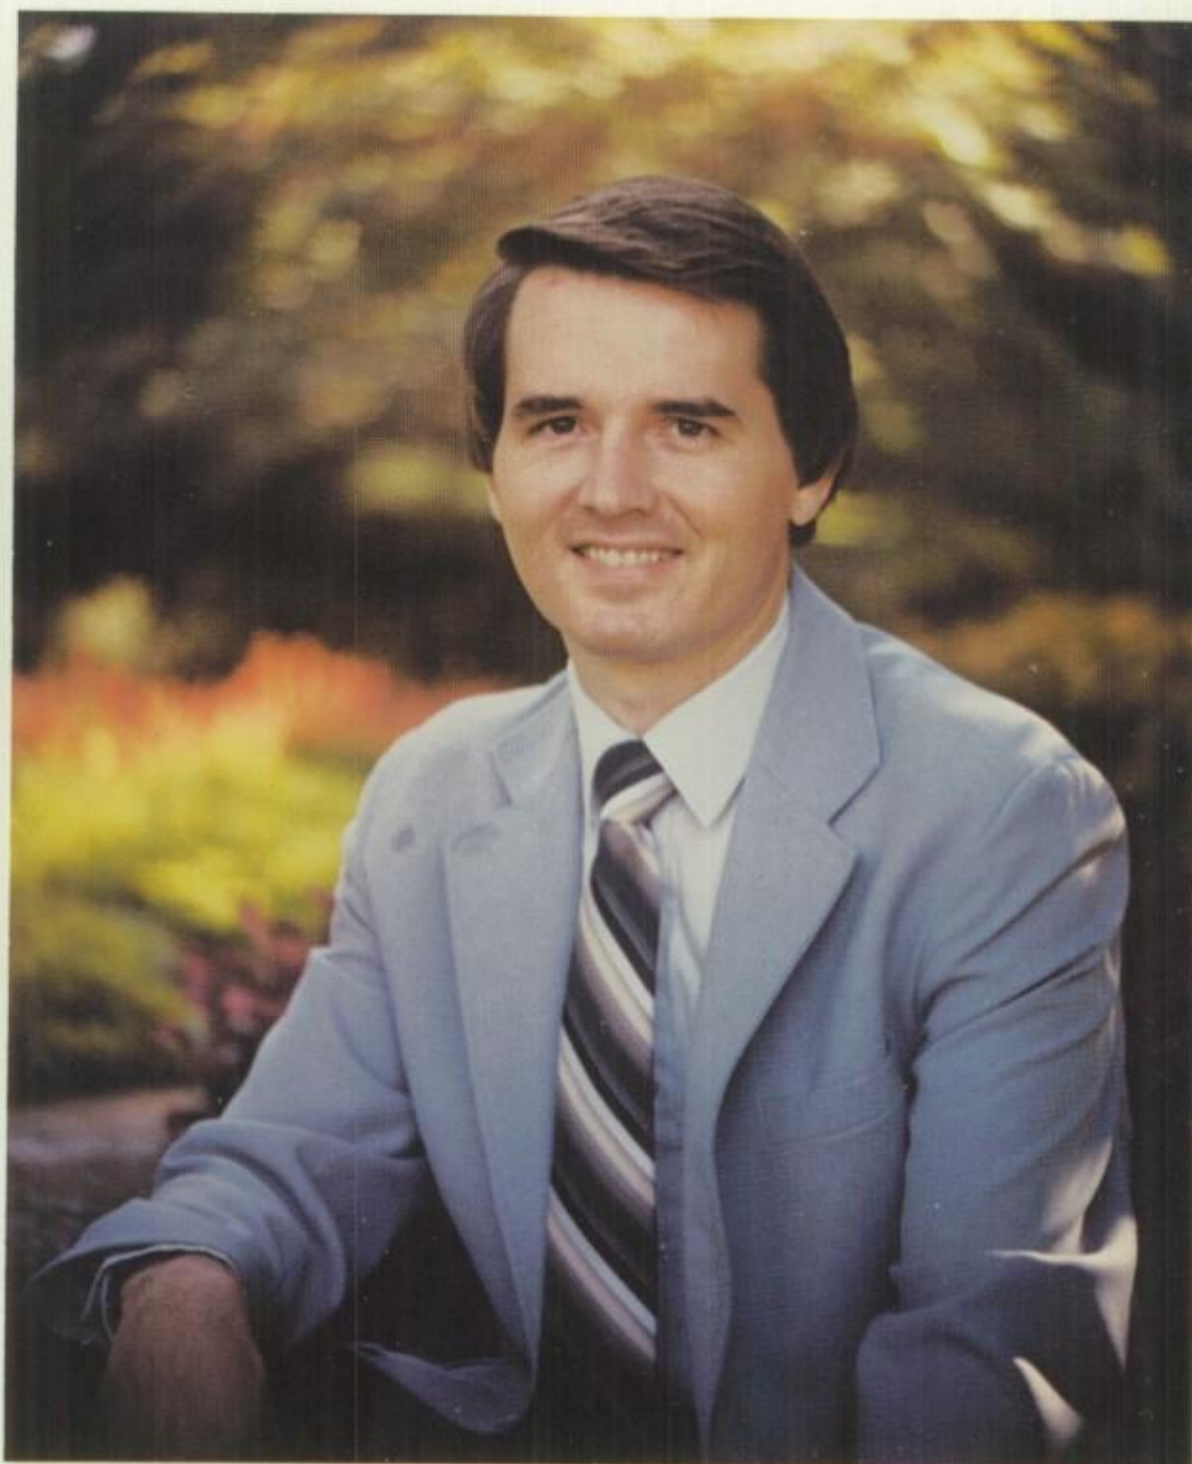

"Go ye . . . and preach the gospel to every creature." (Mark 16:15)

Jesus gave a commission to go tell the good news. We have no option. SCS has become a part of the fulfillment of that command. Our students will go into all the world, and proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ.

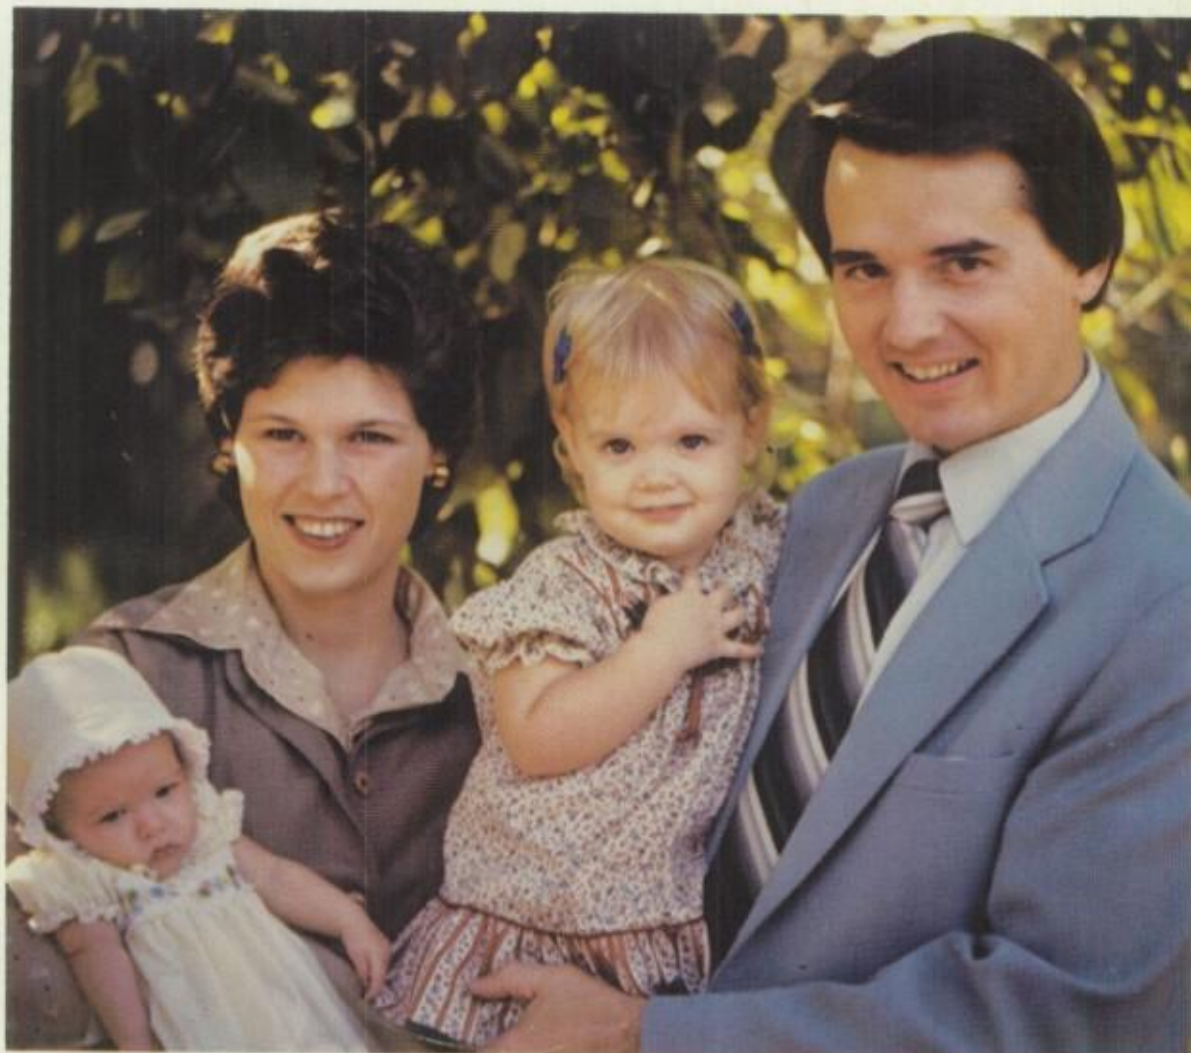

God gave the vision for SCC — a local church to influence the entire city of Tulsa, the state of Oklahoma . . . and ultimately the world. His Word admonished, "Ask of me, and I shall give the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession." (Psalm 2:8)

The purpose of SCS has been stated in II Timothy 2:1 & 2; "Thou therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. And the things that thou has heard among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also."

We are committed to training the students to share the message of God's redeeming grace. Only time will reveal the full impact of this unique approach to putting Jesus Christ first.

The Finishing Touch

*Life begins like a painting,
On a canvas that's spotless and clean,
And first impressions of childhood,
Begin to determine the scene.*

*The first strokes are made by the parents,
The background soon comes into view,
And daily, the words that are spoken,
Are painted as though they were true.*

*School days add many new colors,
And details begin to appear,
And things that seemed out of focus,
Now quickly are starting to clear.*

*Teen years are filled with excitement,
The painting has reached its full size,
And scenes of moods and emotions,
Appear on the backgrounding skies.*

*Each pictures' unique, and so different,
But marred, though the artist was neat,
Yet only a touch from the Master,
Will make each portrait complete.*

The Conqueror is Born

With the rising of a new school spirit came the birth of "the Conqueror," characterized as our director's alter ego. Though small in stature this Norseman enticed our teams on to victory wearing the full armor of God. Truly, the name "Conqueror" has been earned, as all the athletes agreed "a tradition has begun!"

The boys' and girls' Junior Varsity teams put forth great teamwork this year. The coaches, Scott Dodge and John Mason, worked with them spiritually as well as physically, letting them know that winning doesn't always mean having the most points. Their games were filled with excitement as many of them ran a tight score. In the end the Conquerors had the victory, for they had learned how to work together.

MABEE, WE'LL PLAY THERE

Our varsity teams were honored with the opportunity to play their first home game in the "magnificent Mabee Center." There was a feeling of importance experienced by the players and the spectators. The spaciousness around the court set the event in a dreamlike atmosphere for the teams. The starters experienced the normal jitters before a game, but that all seemed to fade when the intense action began. Memories flashed in the eyes of the varsity girls' coach, Debbie Gable, as she thought of her Lady Titan days when she played on this very court.

This night of nights will long be remembered as a privilege to play on the best court in the Midwest.

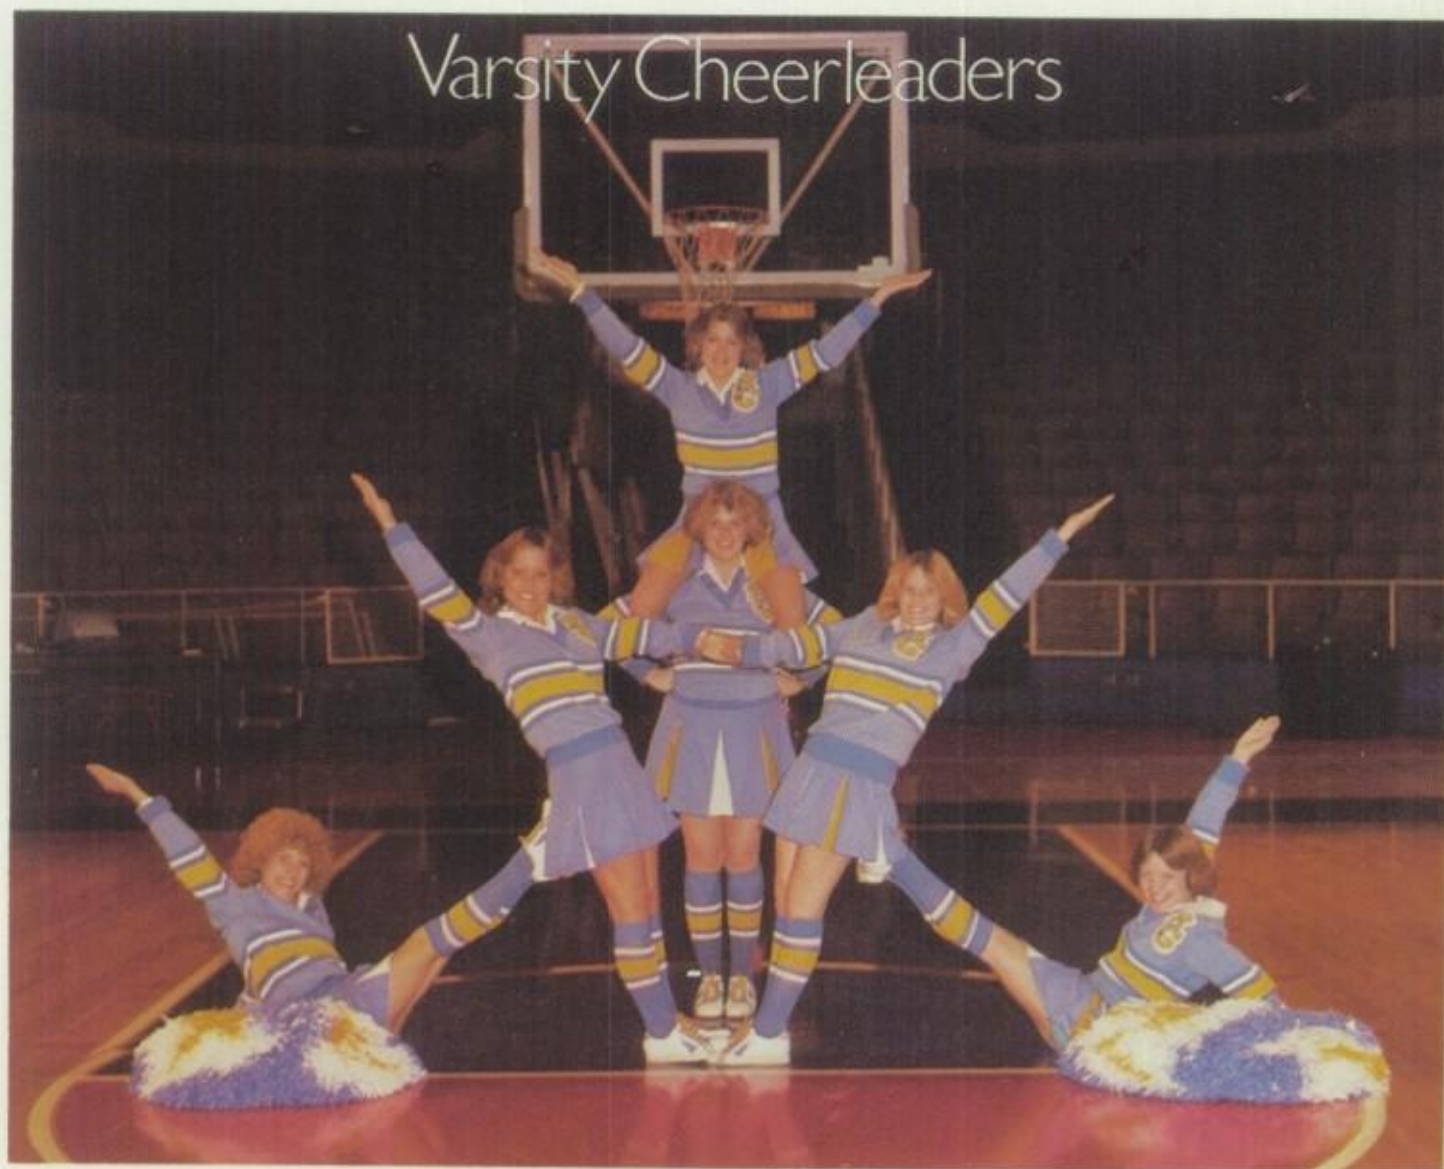

Kelly Carlson lays up another two points, adding to the excitement of playing in the Mabee Center.

LADY CONQUERORS REACH THE TOP

It was a hard working year for our Lady Conquerors. With daily practice, running continuous line drills and strategic plays, the girls prepared themselves for competition. Their coach, Debbie Gable, former Lady Titan, taught them the necessary skills of playing basketball. Communion before each game built up the spiritual unity of the team. They ran out on the court with the courage, ability and the goal to win the game, a goal they met with remarkable consistency.

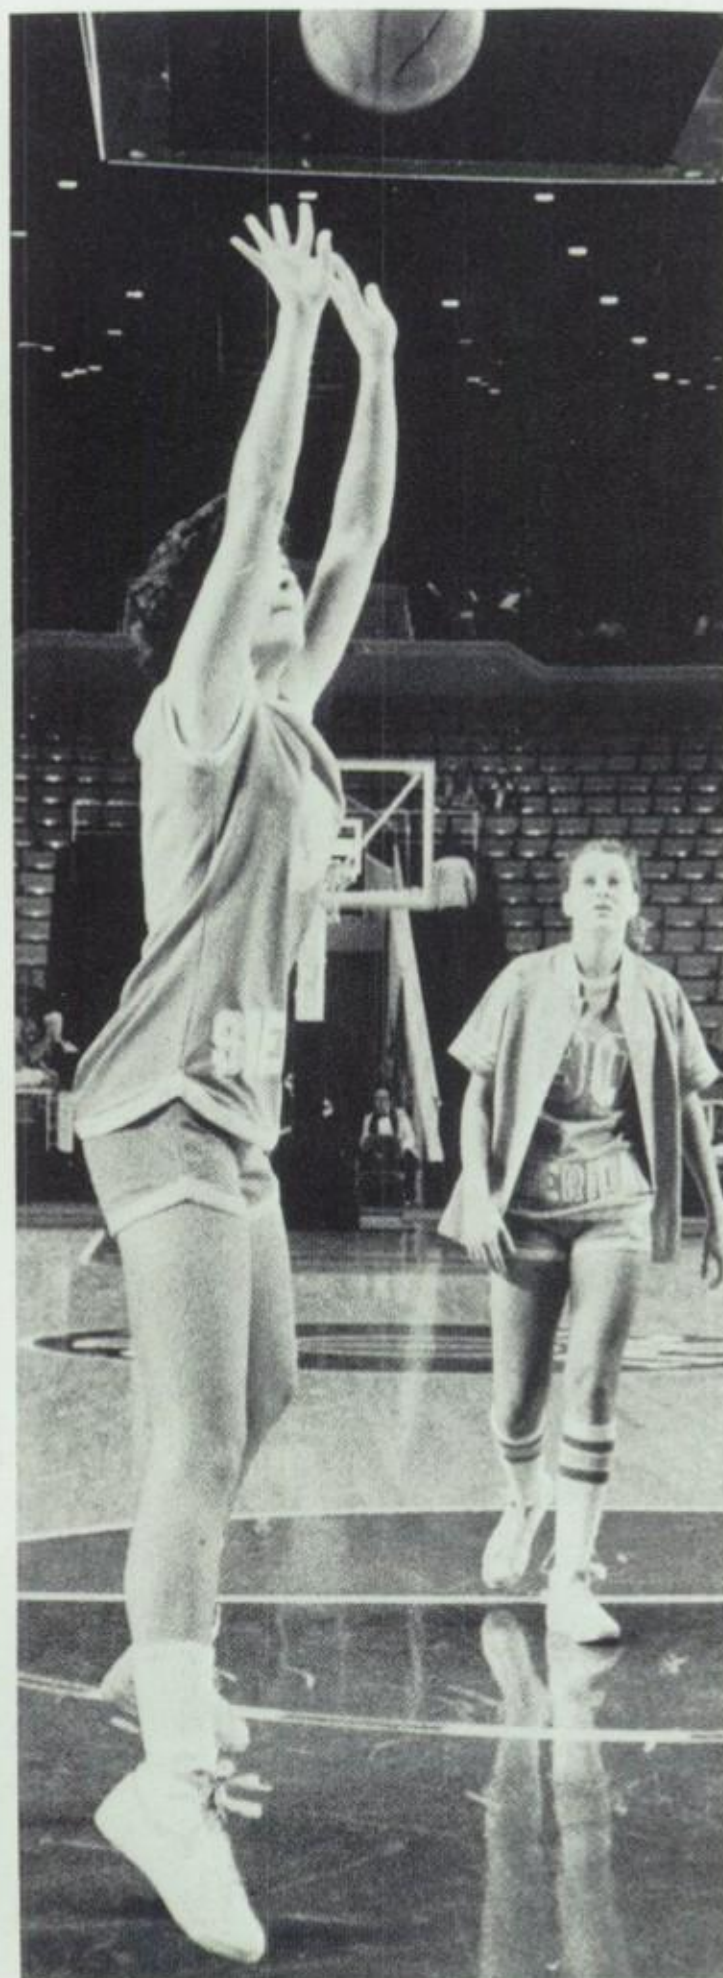

Nanc'jo is up in the air over the Conquerors.

Carol and Andera know that they are victors though they may look as grasshoppers in their opponents' sights."

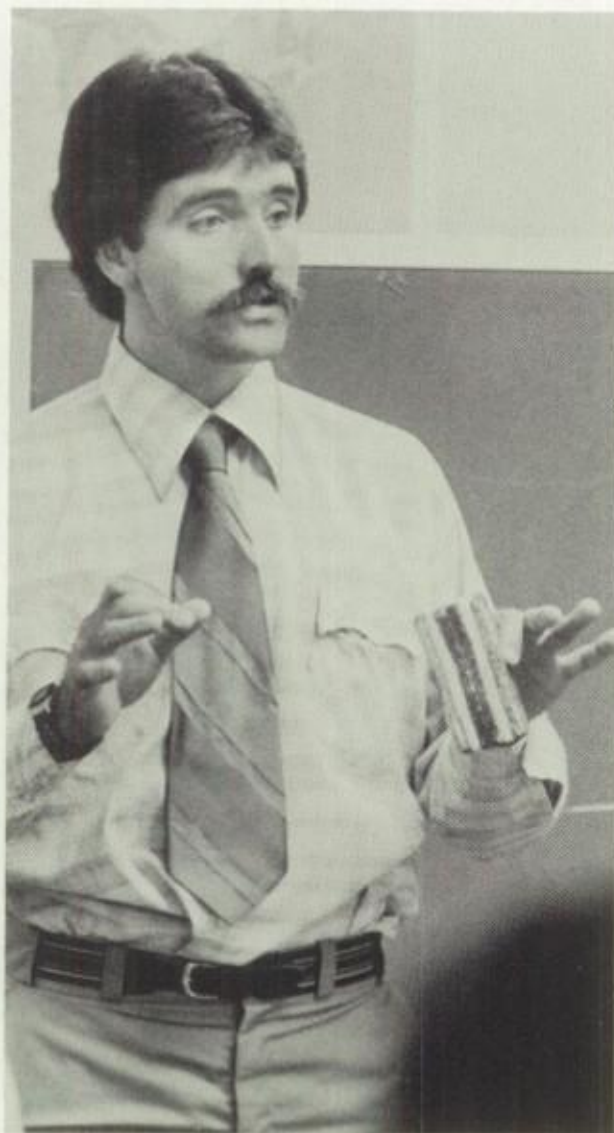

Renee plows through to score two.

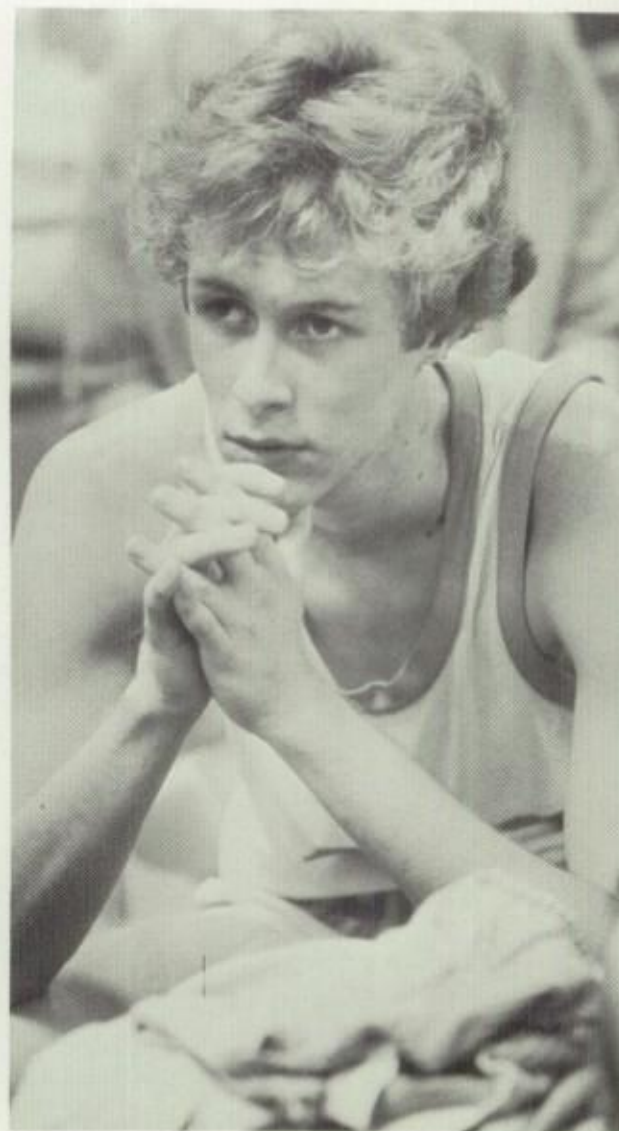

Warming up before a game, Jessica and Lee Ann ease the "jitters".

WE'RE COMING UP

When J.T. Halbrook speaks, people listen!

Indeed, it was a challenging year for the Varsity boys. Starting out slowly, the Conquerors withstood many trials, but with strong will and spirit the team bounced back to victory. Through it all, the team came to realize that unity in spirit and precise teamwork were the only ways that they could live up to the name, "Conquerors."

ACADEMICS

Give Me Now Wisdom and Knowledge

During the course of the year, classes are taken in order to expand our mind's horizons. Through long hours of learning and studying we will better our future, as the Lord increases His wisdom in us.

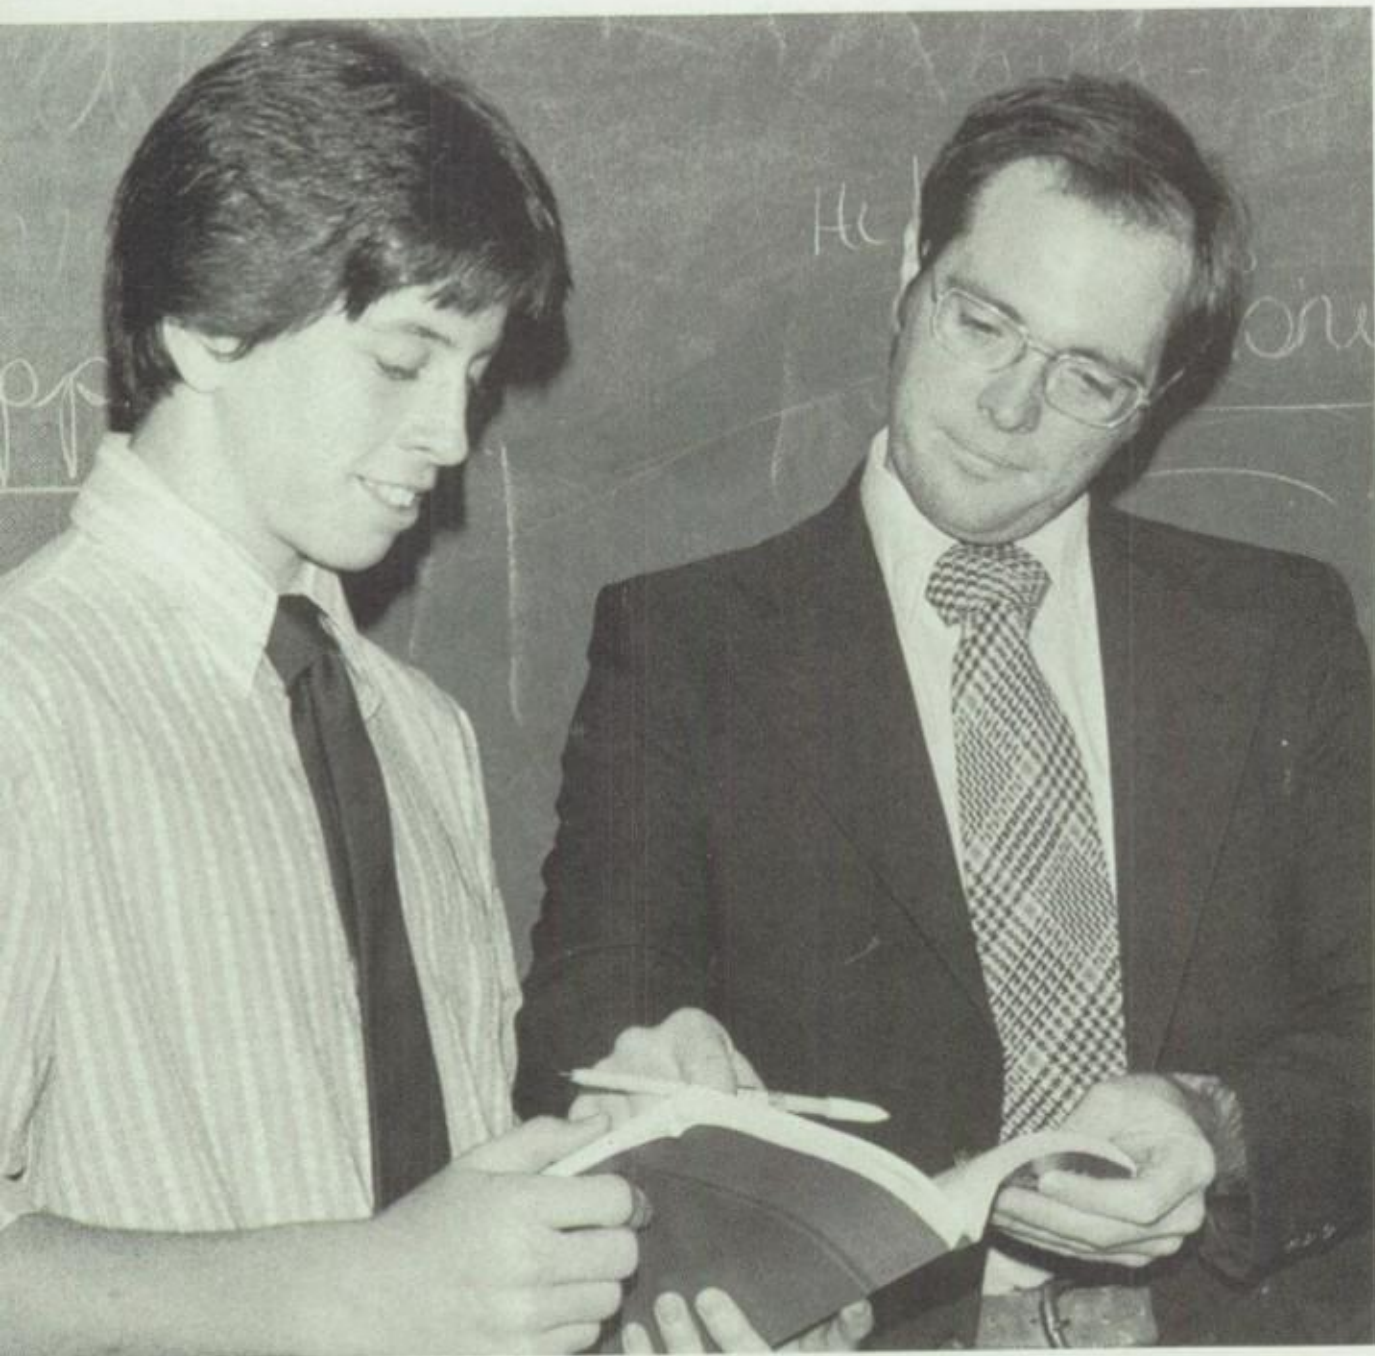

Study To Show Thyself Approved

Tom Sawyer and Lisa Shreve think of lunch while studying a Spanish poster.

"Well done Thou good and faithful, Stewart (Azuma)," approves Miss Johnson.

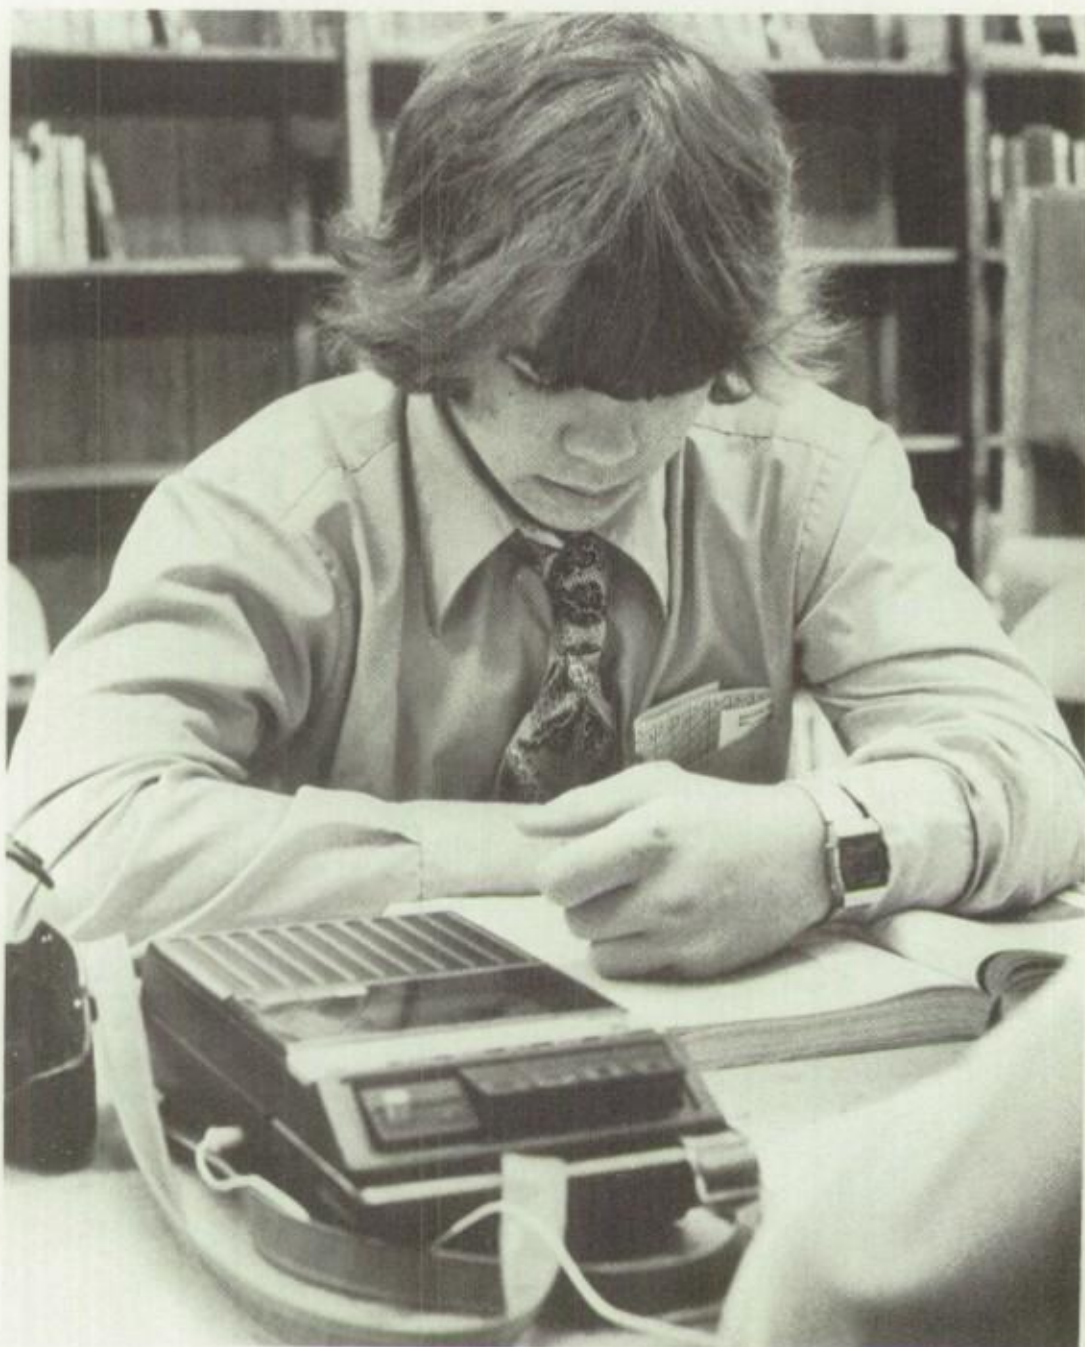

Mr. DaVault encourages Robbie Thompson in creative writing.

Can you find the teacher in this picture?

Getting a Well Balanced Education

Catching up on his studies, Eric Maroney reads quietly.

Rette Rankin browses through Sports magazine in the library.

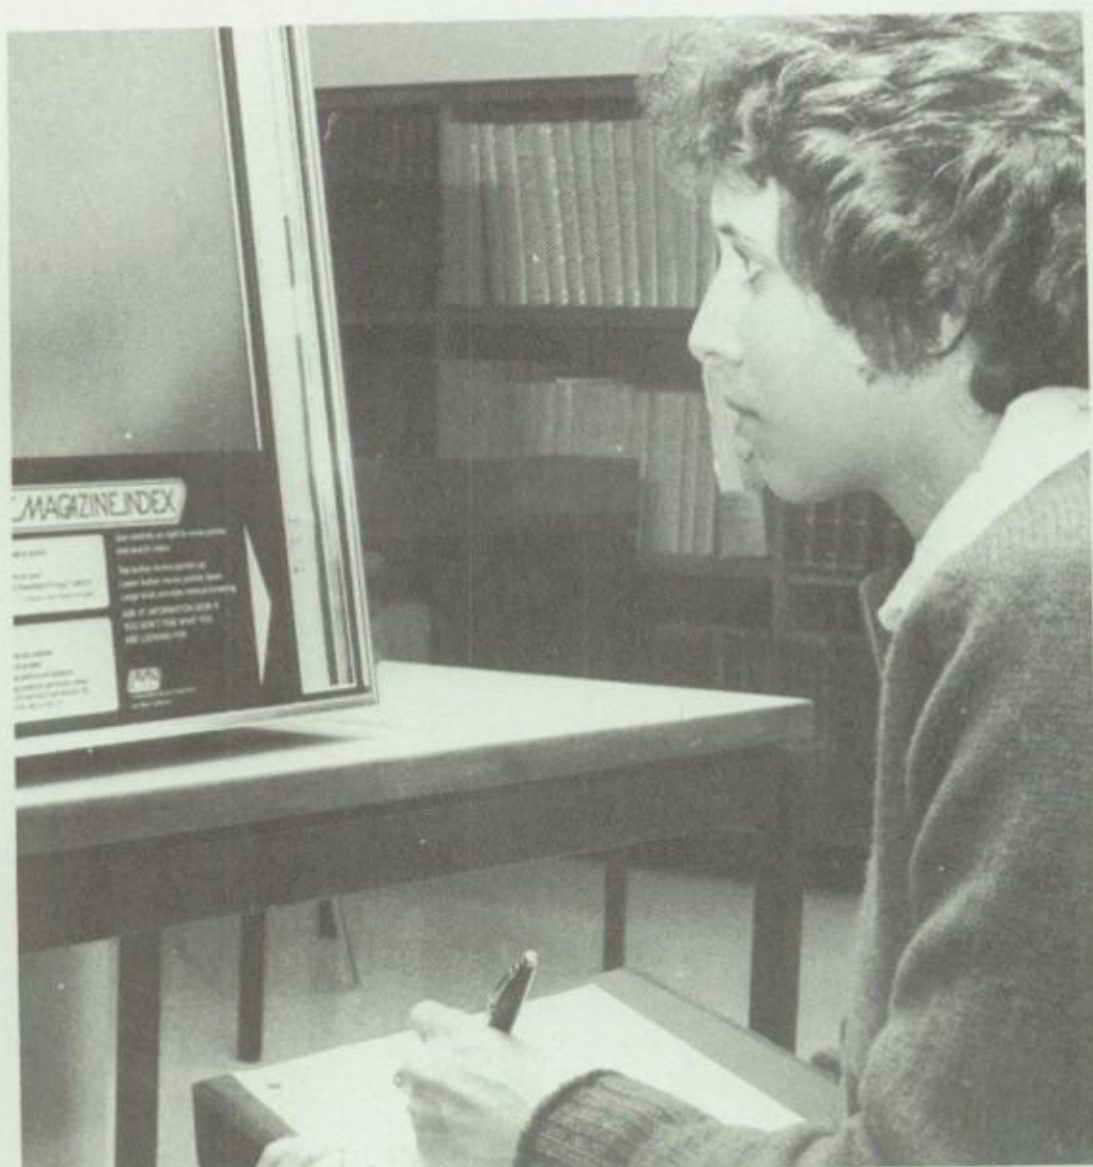

Sharmayne Hall, Kelly Carlson, Gail Hansen, and Christi Thompson in costume for "Rock Music Seminar" — a speech project.

Lori is skeptical of Gina's first Chemistry experiment.

Lisa Chapman plays the role of a secretary as part of a Career Education assignment.

Studying micro-film for a special Speech project, Kim Vokoun collects information on "The right to life."

ORGANIZATIONS

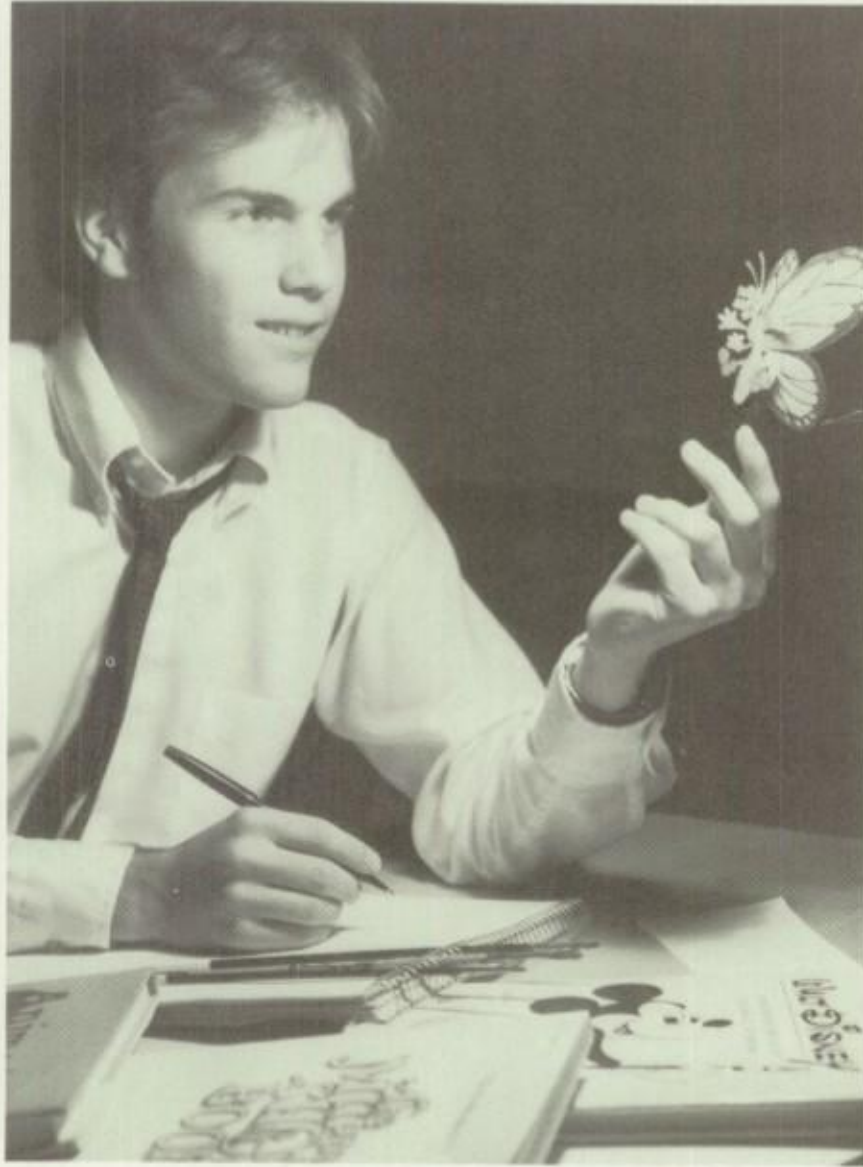

Nevertheless I Live.

Spare and academic hours could always be filled with activities of one or more clubs. New energy radiated from students as interests were found and pursued with all diligence.

EPILOGUE

The New Creation Has Dawned

Each happening metamorphosed from stage to stage, developing long-lived memories in our hearts.

What! know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? 1 CORINTHIANS 6:19

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. PHILLIPPIANS 2:5

Genesis

And God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him; male and female He created them. GENESIS 1:27

The spirit of man is the candle of the Lord, searching all the inward parts of the belly. PROVERBS 20:27

Becky and David Grothe. Mrs. Grothe displayed outstanding leadership ability and organizational skills as the Assistant-director of SCS for the year 1979-80.

Rather than continuing this capacity, she has been transferred from school to home as the mother of Jessica Lynn and Christine Louise, twin daughters born January 15, 1981.

We all agree with Mark Turner that, "SCS will always be indebted to Becky for her contribution as the foundation of our school was developed. No one has a greater appreciation or a better understanding of the significance of her expertise than I do. Becky Grothe was strategically ordained by God to the divinely appointed position and timely role she played in the birth of SCS."

"Don't measure oneself with oneself, but with the vision God has given you," challenges Dr. Demuth during New Creation Curriculum workshop.

Mr. Dennis Demuth, Minister of Education at Madison Gospel Tabernacle in charge of the Abundant Life Christian School and Campus for Kids Pre-School and Day-Care Center, Madison, Wisconsin will join our staff in early summer.

After completing his B.S. degree at the University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point, Wisconsin, he received his M.S. and Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Wisconsin. Dr. Demuth's resume' includes the following information:

- Program Facilitator and Diagnostic Clinic Supervisor, McHenry, Ill.
- Graduate Instructor at McGraw Graduate School, National College of Education, Chicago, Ill.
- Served as Practicing School Psychologist, Sauk City, Wis.
- Graduate Instructor for Loyola Consortium of Universities, Parkland School, McHenry, Ill.
- Instructor at Christian Life School of the Bible, Rockford, Ill.
- Curriculum Consultant, serving several school districts in Wisconsin.
- Training and experience in parent-teacher training in Wisconsin.

His charming wife, Carol is an educator in the field of nursing. Their two children, Todd and Tiffany will enroll in our fourth and first grades respectively, next year.

Besides being accomplished in woodworking, he enjoys a frequent tennis match.

Our new principal shared, "I cherish the thought of being selected by the Lord to help move SCS toward the vision of service to the Congregation, the state and around the world."

The Dawning

Here, the vision started. It grew alongside the memories we created, ever striving to achieve its full potential. With the intensity of expansion, it outgrew these walls.

We are part of the vision. We will long remember coming together. The experiences we shared have formed a lasting picture in our minds, not to be lost in the transplanting of this budding work.

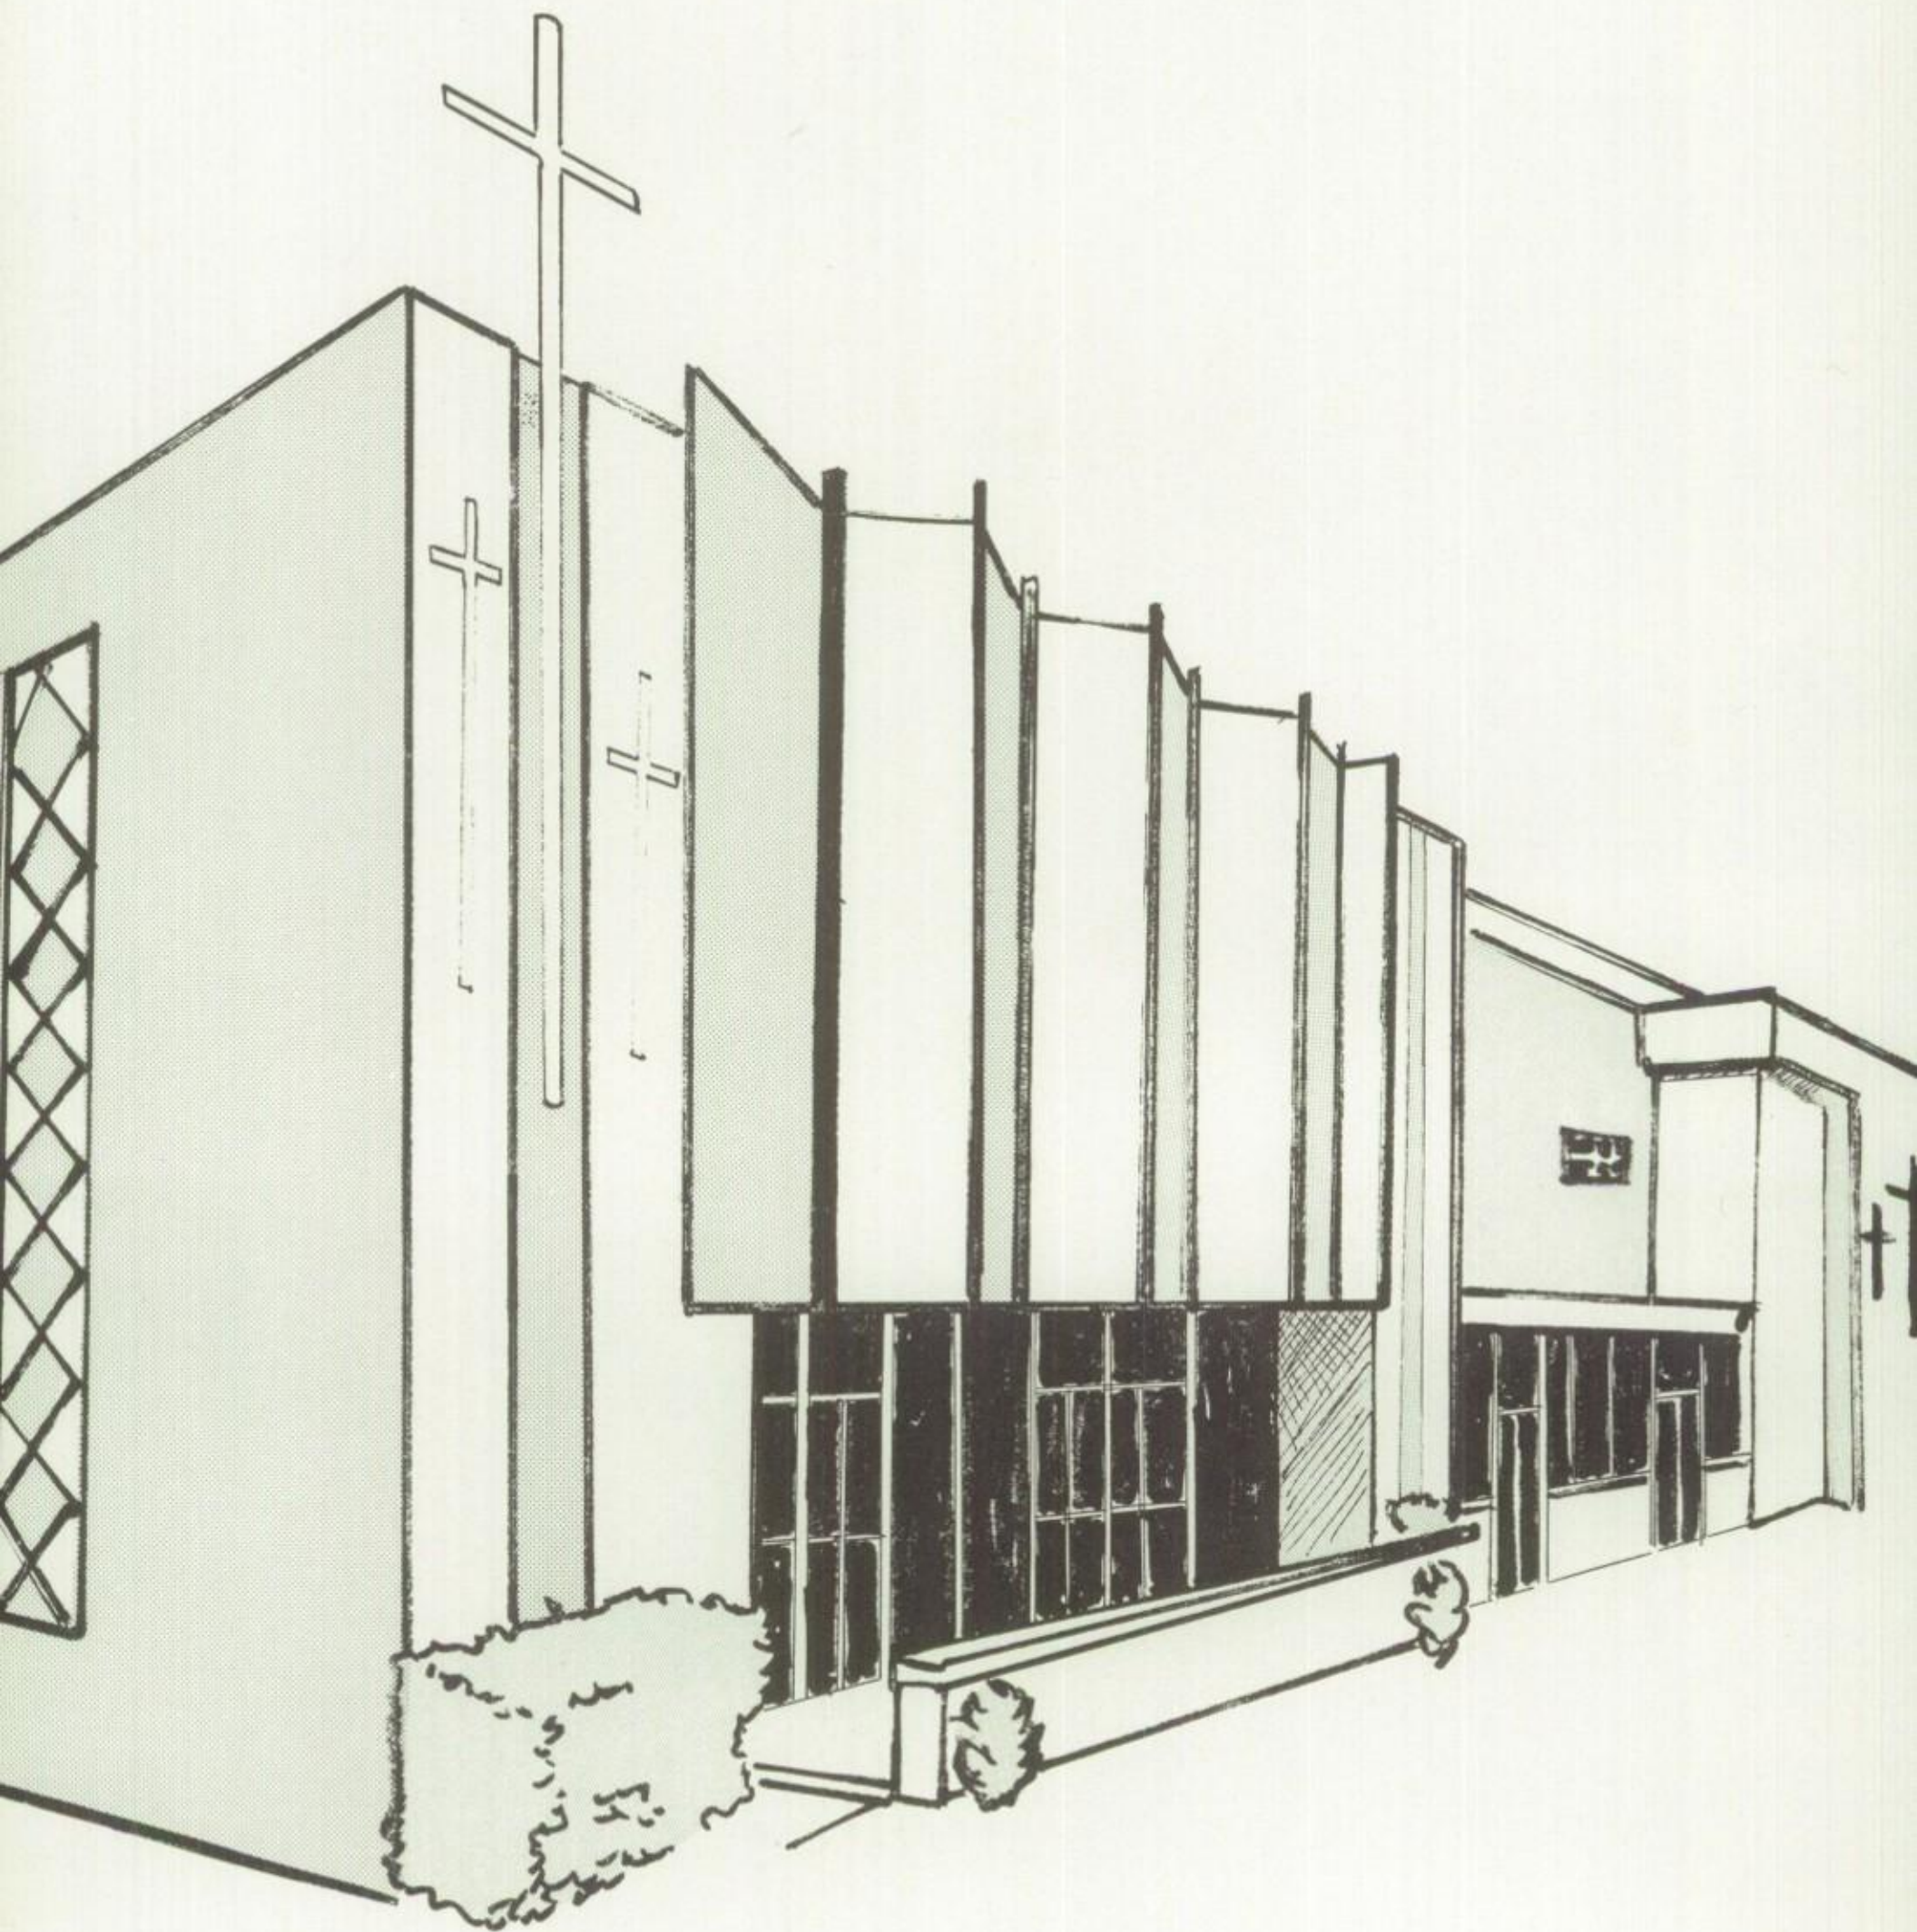

Of a New Creation

This stately, stained-glass structure has served as a chrysalis. Now that our school has developed into the pupa, great changes have taken place. Next year we will find our school as a four-winged creature — a beautiful butterfly — drinking sweet nectar, carrying pollen "of the Word" from country to country.

From here — we move onward.

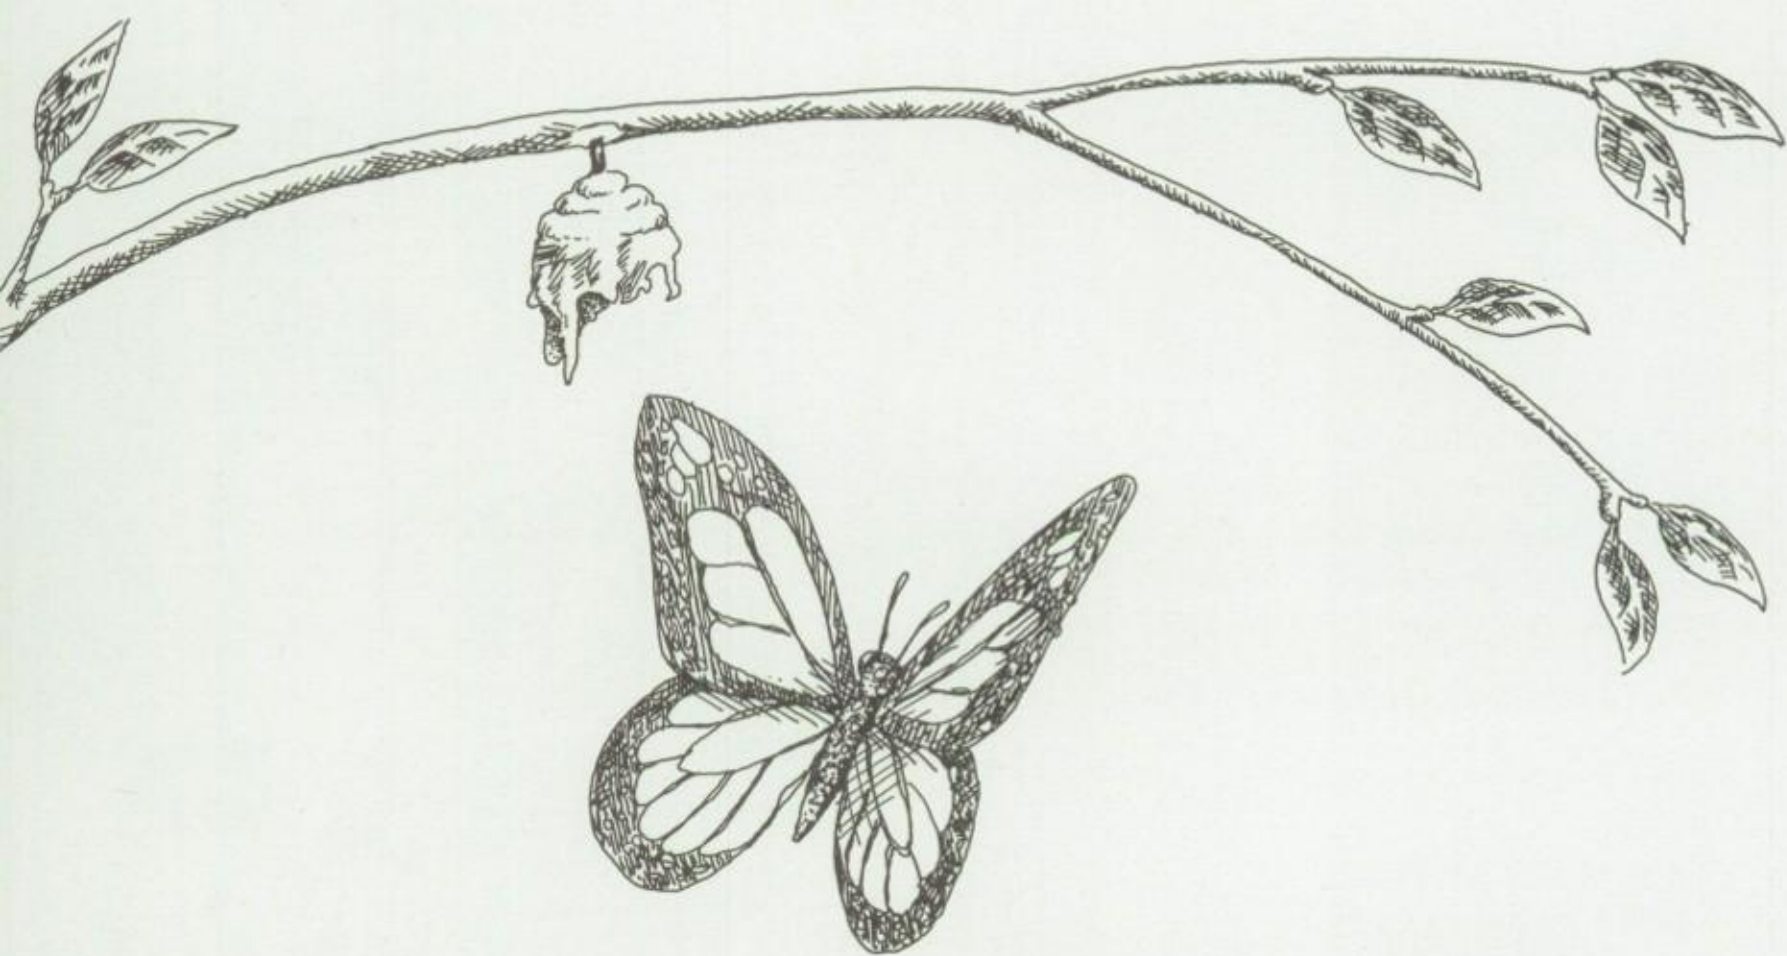

ADVERTISEMENTS

They Helped To Catch the Vision

The emerging and flight of the VISION became a reality through the generosity of patrons. With this type of family-feeling the emerging creation of next year's issue is already on the crawl.

THE KEY TO HAPPY HOME LIFE

Your marriage and your family life can be beautiful. It's simple. Not easy — just simple. It's through the simple but essential principle of human relations exemplified by Jesus — the principle of redeeming love.

What is redeeming love?

The Bible describes it in this exhortation: "And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children: And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweetsmelling savour" (Eph. 4:32-5:2). To follow God, you must forgive those who do you wrong and show love toward them. Forgive the offence — love the offender! That's redeeming love. It's that simple.

But does it work?

God seems to think so. He chose that principle to make something good and beautiful out of you. He forgave you, and He loves you. As you receive His forgiveness and love, you are transformed.

Similarly, as you forgive your mate and your children, you are following God. As you consider their needs more important than your own, you are laying down your life for them. As you show love for them, you are communicating the love God has put within you. As they receive God's love through you, God raises them with you and seats you "together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus" (Eph. 2:6).

To love your mate and children as God loves you, you must pattern your love after God's. Notice this about God's love. He gives to all men liberally and "upbraideth not" (James 1:5). Your redeeming love toward your mate and children gives selflessly and refuses to badger them by flaunting their faults before them. Redeeming love is patient and kind. It neither envies nor boasts. It is neither proud, nor rude nor self-seeking. It is not easily angered and keeps no record of wrongs. It rejoices not in evil, but in the truth. It always protects, trusts, hopes and perseveres. Love never fails (See I Corinthians 13:4-8).

Did you hear those last three words? Love never fails!

It took redeeming love displayed by only one Person to redeem everyone in the human race who receives that forgiving love. Likewise, if only one member of your family determines to display redeeming love to your entire family, your marriage and family life will become beautiful, for love never fails!

You have God's word on it. You can stake your life, your marriage and your family on it. Until God's love fails, God's love through you will never fail.

Does it work in real life?

With twenty-five and one-half years of marriage behind us and five Christian children around us (Elizabeth, Mark, Timothy, Mary and Martha), we assure you — it's not easy, but it works!

— Charles and Margaret Hodge

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Here it is, the first edition of the VISION, the Official yearbook of Sheridan Christian School. Even though this is our first issue, I am the second editor. The first editor, Bobby Heath, resigned because he felt that his involvement would conflict with a greater interest in basketball. During the course of the year I was called on to edit copy, draw layouts and think of captions for some two-hundred pages in this book. Besides the normal duties of an editor, I ran errands to many Tulsa businesses securing pictures, buying graphic supplies and selling ads. Many of my school hours were spent in the yearbook office, which reminds me of a telephone booth. When deadlines were upon us, I was given permission to miss a full day of classes. Even with work on the yearbook all school day, some of the staff could still be found working at 2:30 in the morning. Many nights we found it hard to let creativity flow, but it did nonetheless.

The VISION staff, for the most part, was very qualified for the creation of this book. Some were replaced, but in the best interest of the organization.

I would like to thank the following people for their contributions to the VISION:

- The advisor, Mrs. Margaret Hodge, who put in countless hours of work on the book. And her family: "Chuck", Elizabeth, Mark, Tim, Mary, and Martha.
- Hunter Publishing Company representative, Claudia Bennett who "walked us through" and gave her expert opinion.
- Mr. David Heckel, for training our photographers.
- Mr. Mark Turner, for giving his total cooperation to the yearbook organization.
- My family, for letting me give so much of my time to the VISION.
- The staff who helped produce this book, especially Tim Hodge.
- The ad salesmen and the Tulsa businesses that bought ads.
- Everyone that bought a yearbook.

If you have any questions or comments please, write me in care of the school.
Enjoy the VISION,

Ben Griffin
